River Gives Up 'Ghost' Steamer

UNEARTH STERNWHEELER'S REMAINS. Fittings of the steam boat Tom Rees No. 2, which sank in the Ohio River below East Liverpool 52 years ago, have been unearthed from their watery grave by a dredge of the Dravo Corp. Bucket ladder operator Frank McLaughlin holds an iron ornamental piece, dredge Supt. Louis Laymon examines the boat's whistle, and Foreman Carl Johnson looks on after the objects were recovered between Waterford Park and the "Cluster Islands." Pipe fittings and other bits of metal were also found in sand and gravel scooped from the river bottom by the dredge.

Rusted remains of a steamboat that sank 52 years ago have been unearthed by a Dravo Corp. dredge working in the Ohio River between East Liverpool and the Stratton Superdam.

A bucket ladder of Dredge 16 of Dravo's Keystone Division scooped up the whistle, pipe fittings and pieces of ornamentation from the wooden - hulled sternwheeler, Tom Rees No. 2, which sank in 1910.

The discovery was made when the bucket ladder brought up sand and gravel from the river bottom between Waterford Park and the "Cluster Islands."

Identification of the rusted remains, some of which bore the markings "TR," was made by Capt. Frederick Way of Sewickley, publisher of the "Inland River Record."

The publisher's files revealed that the vessel was built in 1869 by Thomas Rees & Sons Co. of Pittsburgh. In the winter of 1910, while upbound to Pittsburgh with a tow of empty coal barges, the vessel was forced to tie up just below the islands because of low water, a common problem in that period.

When the river level rose, a crew headed by Capt. Ab Gould was sent from Pittsburgh to complete the trip. On Feb. 10, 1910, they started upstream.

They had proceeded only a few miles to "Mahan's Light," a short distance above the islands, when the boat's hull buckled and the Tom Rees No. 2 sank.

The entire crew made it safely to shore without injury, but the vessel was abandoned. Later the machinery was salvaged, but the remaining portions of the hull and superstructure eventually broke up and floated away.

Louis Laymon of Chester, superintendent of Dredge 16, turned over the relics of the sunken steamboat to Keystone Division's headquarters at Neville Island. No decision has been made on their ultimate disposition.

West Big 3 Urges Soviet To Join In Meeting On Berlin

Russia Held Responsible For Tension

Diplomatic Move Taken After Public Charge Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) —Holding the Soviets responsible for tensions arising from the Berlin wall, the Western Big Three powers called on the Soviet Union today to join in a meeting to prevent further deterioration of the situation in Berlin.

The call for consultation among the big-power representatives—preferably to be held in Berlin—was issued by the United States, Britain and France in similarly worded notes handed to the Soviets in Moscow.

The diplomatic move was a follow-up to Thursday's stiffly worded public declaration by the three powers holding the Soviet Union still responsible under the postwar German occupation agreements and proclaiming the West will not yield on its Berlin rights.

The central theme was that the Soviets cannot one-sidely change the fundamental set-up or turn their responsibilities over to East Germany which the West does not recognize.

The action came at the end of a week of mounting tension over the divided city, marked by Berlin wall incidents and the Communists' replacement of the Soviet commandant in Berlin by an East German chief.

Today's note repeated a call for a Big Four meeting on Berlin that has been issued by the West on several occasions starting with a note June 25.

Moscow has rejected the Western bid on previous occasions, and there was no indication the Kremlin was about to change its mind this time.

Despite Soviet Threat

100 U.S. Army Cars Go Through Red Germany

BULLETIN

BERLIN (AP)—Tension gripped Berlin again today but tempers tapered off. Three Soviet armored cars drove into the Western sector after putting up only token resistance to an American escort and a U.S. military convoy moved smoothly along the autobahn without interference from the Communists.

BERLIN (AP)—More than 100 U.S. Army vehicles loaded with troops moved through East Germany to West Berlin unescorted today despite a Soviet threat to convoy American vehicles through Communist-occupied German territory.

Contingents of the 6th Infantry Division's 2nd Battle Group—342 men in 108 vehicles, mostly trucks—cleared without interference through the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, on the border between West and East Germany.

The first group of 35 vehicles arrived in Berlin after 3¼ hours, and a U.S. Army spokesman said no attempt was made to escort them.

The spokesman said U.S. Army sedans also were touring East Berlin today as usual, and he had no reports of any Soviet attempt to escort them.

The Russians threatened Thursday to escort all American vehicles traveling in Communist-controlled German territory in retaliation for American insistence on escorting Soviet armored cars sent into West Berlin.

The 2nd Battle Group unit traveled in 70 vehicles, mostly trucks. It was returning from training in West Germany.

Units of the 6th Infantry's 3rd Battle Group—also part of the American garrison in West Berlin—were scheduled to leave the city today for similar training in West Germany. West Berlin is too small for large-scale maneuvers.

City And Firm To Plan Start Of Street Job

Low-Cost Surfacing Project May Begin Early Next Month

Officials of the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co., Inc., at Canton are due in East Liverpool today to confer with Safety-Service Director Robert Owen on a date for beginning work on a low-cost street surfacing program.

The Stark County concern holds a contract for the job awarded in early August by the Board of Control, comprised of the director and Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. It calls for completion of the work by Oct. 1.

The company has indicated it may be able to begin the local project early in the first week of September, Owen said. Its equipment is busy now on a State Highway Department job which it

Lisbon Court Opens Hearing On Tax Case

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard opened a hearing this morning at Lisbon in a mandamus action filed by Trades and Labor Council seeking to compel Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate to certify to the Election Board an initiative ordinance aimed at repealing the city income tax.

First on the witness stand was Joseph A. Winters, secretary of Trades Council, who filed the action. Applegate was the next to testify.

The labor group contends Applegate erred in assuming a "judicial" role and ruling the petitions insufficient after they were filed in his office. Atty. Lawrence W. Smith represents the labor group. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper is appearing for the city.

Senate Approves Drug Safety Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drug safety bill born in stormy controversy two years ago has sailed easily through the Senate without a vote cast in opposition.

Its way cleared by public concern touched off by the sedative thalidomide, the measure was sent on to the house Thursday by a 78-0 vote.

A House committee is holding hearings on a companion bill, similarly designed to strengthen safeguards against the marketing of dangerous and ineffective drugs.

The only sharp disagreement in the Senate debate was over an amendment sponsored by the bill's author, Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn. The Senate rejected 53-28 his effort to require compulsory licensing of drug patents when there is a 500 per cent markup in the price to pharmacists.

Kefauver contended prices of prescription drugs are "outrageously high" and that the only way to assure substantial reductions is to break up patent monopolies by compulsory licensing.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which handled the bill, said adoption of Kefauver's amendment would "destroy all incentive to make investments for drug research" and be "a crime against humanity."

Loses Bid For Asylum

Soblen Denied Freedom By British High Court

LONDON (AP) — The British High Court refused again today to free fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen so that he can seek asylum from a life sentence in the United States.

Justice John Stephenson turned down Soblen's application for a writ of habeas corpus. The judge rejected the arguments of the fugitive's attorneys challenging Home Secretary Henry Brooke's order to deport Soblen to the United States.

The court's ruling does not mean, however, that Soblen's departure is imminent. His attorneys are certain to take the case to the Court of Appeals. If they lose there, as they have once before, they may take it to the House of Lords, Britain's highest tribunal.

Soblen will remain in the hospital of London's Brixton Prison.

The judge said the home secretary, not the deportee, had the authority to choose the ship or plane on which the deportee had to leave Britain. In this case, Brooke has specified that Soblen be placed aboard a New York-bound plane.

Soblen was convicted in federal court in New York of spying for the Soviet Union. He jumped bail of $100,000 and fled in late June to Tel Aviv, using his dead brother's Canadian passport.

Large Crowd Expected For Fair's Climax

8,000 Admissions Listed For 2 Days; Awards Announced

LISBON — Only 8,000 paying patrons have gone through the gates at the 117th annual Columbiana County Fair, but large crowds are expected tonight and Saturday, climax of the rural extravaganza, Richard Stamp, secretary, said today.

The County Agricultural Society, the fair's sponsor, had hoped for 30,000 admissions, a figure it still may attain with big crowds today and tomorrow.

Over 500 attended the second day of racing Thursday afternoon, with the following winners:

The 2:20 trot—Moth Proof, owned by Robert Woolman, first; Maybelle Wynwood, owned by W. W. Gummerson, second; Perk Wynwood owned by Gummerson, third; Chester Stone, owned by Angeline Johnston, and Bonanza Barnes, owned by C. K. Buel, tied for fourth.

Free-for-all trot — Worthy Key, owned by J. Elmo Mattern, first; Bobbie Funk, owned by C. R. Barr, second; Averilla, owned by Clyde Woolman Jr. third; Lockheart Royal, owned by Gummerson, fourth and Josedale Lordship, owned by G. Brown and B. Woolman, fifth.

Boy Injured In Glenmoor

Youngster Walks Into Path Of Truck

A Glenmoor child, hit by a pickup truck near his home Thursday at 8:30 p. m., is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Melvin L. Chestnut Jr., 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Chestnut of the Annesly Rd., was struck by the truck driven by Everett E. Crawford, 69, of Bradford, Pa., at the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd. and Annesly Rd., according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers said the boy apparently walked into the path of the vehicle.

The boy suffered the loss of two upper teeth, a possible fractured jaw, chest and spine injuries and multiple abrasions of the body.

No one was injured in two other accidents investigated by the patrol, one of them early today.

Officers said a car driven by Harry E. Fife, 19, of Washingtonville went off Route 164 about a mile and a half north of Lisbon at 1:20 a m. today.

The car struck a guardrail after leaving the highway. Officers said Fife was driving without lights. He was arrested for driving without an operator's permit and without lights.

Lamar E. Stout, 36, of Freemont was cited for improper backing following an accident Thursday at 6 p. m. on County Rd. 411 near Guilford Lake.

Officers said Stout was driving a car pulling a small house trailer. He halted on the highway and then backed into a car behind him driven by Thomas C. Wolfe, 27, of 1207 Jennings Ave., Minor damage resulted to the trailer and Wolfe's car.

250 Hear John M. Briley At Salem GOP Breakfast

Salem — John Marshall Briley of Toledo, Republican candidate for U. S. senator from Ohio in the Nov. 6 general election, told 250 area Republicans at a breakfast today at the Memorial Building that he "would have voted against the King-Anderson Medicare bill if he were in congress."

In reply to a query from the audience regarding his views on the measure, Briley said he opposed the bill because it was "an administration steam roller" and because "it opened the door to socialized medicine with eventual government control of doctors and hospitals."

Terming the proposed measure a "fraud on the people," the speaker said one of its drawbacks was that "it provided relief for persons who were able to pay for their medical care."

Passage of the bill would impose an insuperable load on the Social Security program, he said. Recognizing the financial program confronting many aged citizens of moderate needs, Briley said if he were elected, he

Deaths and Funerals

Former Area Resident Dies

Stephen A. Smurda, 72, of Youngstown, a former resident of Wellsville, was pronounced dead Thursday at 9 a.m. at South Side Hospital in Youngstown following a heart attack at his home.

Mr. Smurda resided in Wellsville 34 years, leaving about 1917. He was born Dec. 5, 1889, in Pottstown, Pa., to Stephen and Susan Smurda. He returned to the Youngstown area in 1956 following a 38-year absence. He had been employed 17 years as a supervisor in the cold strip finishing department of the Inland Steel Co. at Gary, Ind., retiring in 1954. He previously had worked with the Newton Steel Co. in Newton Falls. He was a member of the St. Dominic Catholic Church at Youngstown. He was married in 1924 to the former Catherine A. Rouan.

In addition to his widow, he leaves a son, John Smurda of Gary; a brother, Michael Smurda of Ecorse, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Sophie McKeon of Los Angeles, Mrs. Mary Chema of Wellsville, Mrs. Catherine Mann of Canton and Mrs. Susan Reilly of Youngstown, who made her home with Mrs. Smurda, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the church. Friends may call Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and night at the Fox Funeral Home in Youngstown.

Mrs. William Young

Mrs. Ethel M. Young of Grimms Bridge R.D. 3, wife of William Young, died this morning at 9 at North Side Hospital in Youngstown after a year's illness. She was 55.

She was born in St. Clair Township and resided in this area her lifetime. She was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Wilma Boso and Mrs. Ethel Mae Barborak, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Maudie Boso of Santa Ana, Calif.; two brothers, Roy Wright and Elmer Wright, both of East Liverpool; two sisters, Mrs. Sylvia Young, also of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Hazel Christian of Canonsburg and eight grandchildren.

The Martin Funeral Home is arranging services.

Joseph Dick

Joseph A. Dick, 50, of Carroll Rd., Hopples Corners, a chemical analyst at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at 12:45 at City Hospital, as a result of a self-inflicted shotgun wound earlier at his home.

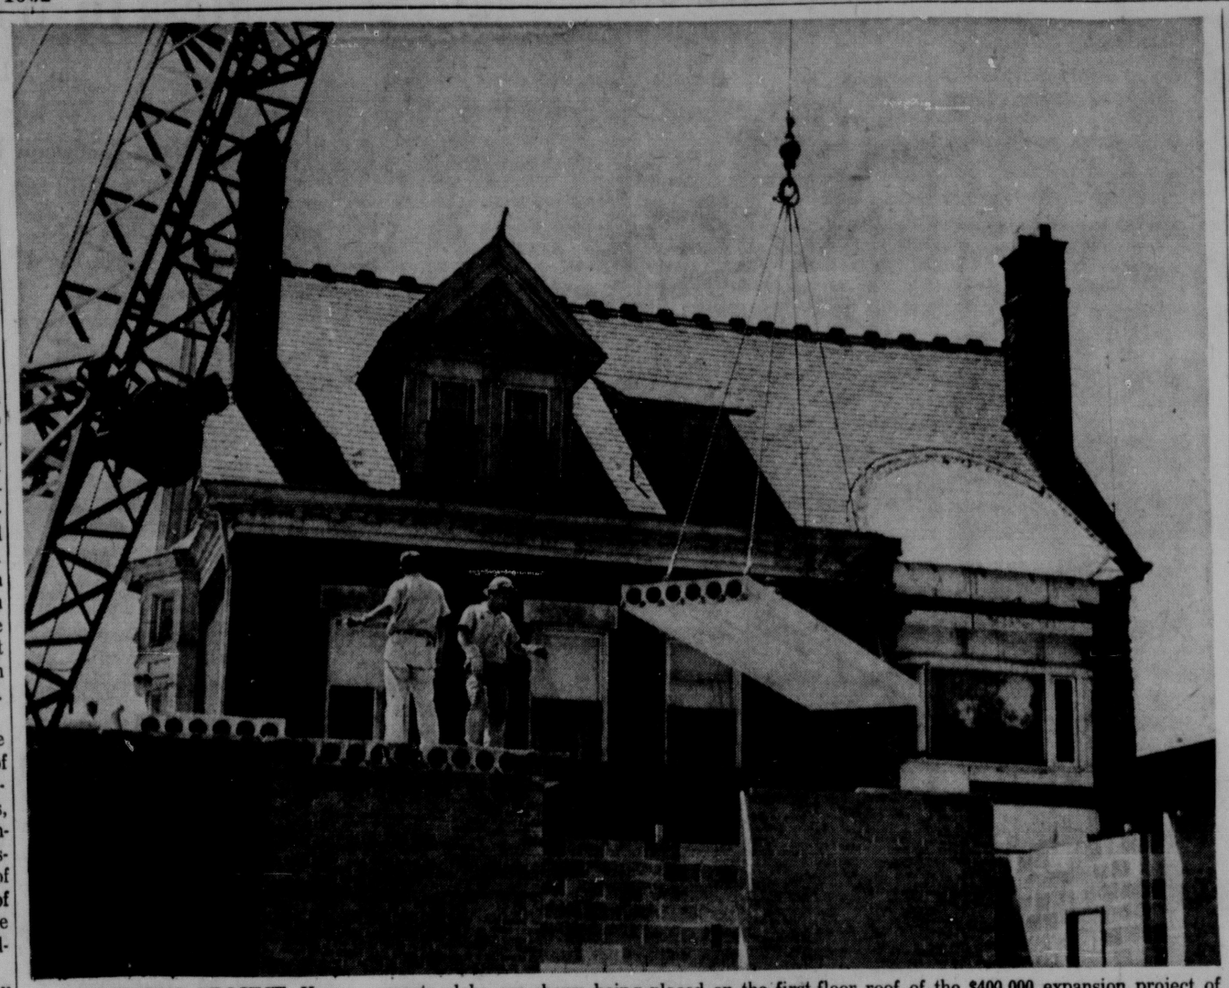

Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy coroner, ruled Mr. Dick had taken his own life. He had been in failing health for 15 years.

Mr. Dick was born in Pittsburgh April 19, 1912, to Jacob Cortez and Anna Cortez Dick. He was employed at the Midland plant for 21 years and had worked on Thursday. He was a member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church and the Steelworkers Local 1212.

He is survived by a son, Joseph S. Dick at home; a brother Charles S. Dick; a sister, Mrs. Barbara Metz, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Anna Schwartz and Mrs. Minerva Paul, all of Pittsburgh.

Services will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at the church by Fr. Joseph Bennett, assistant pastor. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the Martin Funeral Home tonight.

AT HOSPITAL PROJECT. Heavy concrete slabs are shown being placed on the first-floor roof of the $400,000 expansion project of the East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital on W. 6th St. The slabs, weighing about 2,500 pounds each, were installed by the Permacrete Co. of Columbus with a heavy-duty crane of the George Cindrich Co. of Midland. The Potters Construction Co. is general contractor for the project, which began April 18. Dr. John Hayes, president of the hospital, said it is hoped the new facility, which also has a ground floor, can be used about the first of the year.

Mrs. Edna Fiest

Services for Mrs. Edna Marie Fiest, 26, of Middlebourne, sister of Guy Wells of Chester, were held Thursday afternoon at the Sawyer Funeral Home in Middlebourne with burial there.

Mrs. Fiest was born May 26, 1936, at Powhatan Point.

She leaves two sons, another brother, five sisters and her mother, Mrs. Nellie Richmond Fiest of Powhatan Point.

Mrs. Filura Palmer

Services for Mrs. Filura Palmer of Park Way Ext., who died Thursday morning at her home, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Martin Funeral Home.

The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Roy A. Dickey

Roy A. Dickey, 64, of Cleveland, a former resident of East Liverpool, died early Wednesday morning at the Lakewood Hospital there after a brief illness.

He left here about 40 years ago. He was the son of the late Sam Dickey and Blanche Dickey.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lil Dickey at home, and two sons, Roy Dickey and Robert Dickey, both of Cleveland.

Services and burial will be held Saturday morning at Cleveland.

Delbert Nicholas

LISBON — Services for Delbert (Dick) Nicholas will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William Brown, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Mr. Nicholas died in Dayton, where he had resided for 15 years.

Mrs. Mary White

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the VanDyke Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary Bacon White, 80, who died Wednesday at the County Home near Lisbon.

The Rev. Thomas Hammerton of the Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Mrs. White formerly resided in East Palestine and Salem. She was a former employe of the W. S. George Pottery Co. and the Salem China Co. She also was a member of the Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Lela McIntosh

KENSINGTON — Mrs. Lela V. McIntosh, 68, of R.D., wife of Mervin McIntosh, died Thursday at 8 p.m. at home following an illness of three years.

She was married Oct. 3, 1907.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, James Harold McIntosh of Hanoverton, R.D., John McIntosh of Minerva R.D. 2, and Claire McIntosh of Kensington R.D.; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Hall of Mechanicstown R.D.; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hull of Mechanicstown R.D. and Mrs. Etta Brothers of Mechanicstown, and 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Three sons preceded her in death.

Services will be held Sunday 2:30 p.m. at the Maple Funeral Home by the Rev. Milton Davis, pastor of the Minerva Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery in Hanoverton.

Friends may call at the funeral home here Saturday afernoon and evening.

Briley

will "work towards passage of legislation which would benefit persons unable to pay for medical attention."

The speaker also rapped President Kennedy's interference in the steel increase incident, declaring "You can't administer prices without administering costs."

"Both labor and management should fear intervention of government in their affairs," Briley said.

Taking a swipe at Sen. Frank J. Lausche, his opponent in the fall election, Briley deprecated the Democrat's "middle - of - the-road policy."

"You've got to be either a Republican or a Democrat — there are no seats in the middle aisle," Briley declared.

The Toledo candidate said he disagreed wih the recent Supreme Court ruling banning prayers in public schools. "I pledge that if I am elected, I will do everything in my power to forward the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution to nullify the decision of the Supreme Court on religious activities in the classrooms," he said.

Devoting much of his talk to farm legislation, Briley said, "Within a very few days, H-R 12391, the newest farm bill, will have cleared both its conference committee hurdles and new votes in the House and Senate, and the President will have signed it into law."

"It's only a matter of days until Ohio farmers will have good reason to feel that once again they are in the embrance of an octopus. Ohio farmers detest mandatory controls, they even dislike voluntary programs that are administratively so complex as to defy human understanding," Briley continued.

"Regularly, Ohio farmers vote no in a wheat referendum. If as I expect, the final form of the Food and Agricultural Act of 1962 contains the principle of relating corn support prices to a moving, three-year average of market prices, it will be vastly superior to the bills requested by the Kennedy Administration," he said.

Ohio's diversified farmers are at a disadvantage because farm legislation during Democratic control of the two Houses of Congress comes from agricultural committees whose chairmen are mainly interested in cotton, tobacco and peanuts, Briley said.

"Under GOP control, the House Agricultural Committee would have an Iowan as its chairman, and that's another good reason for voting for John Carrigg in the 18th District instead of the Democratic incumbent," he said.

Dr. Carrigg, a history professor at the College of Steubenville, is opposing incumbent Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing for 18th District congressman.

Briley, general counsel for Owings - Corning Fiberglas Corp. in Toledo, was introduced by Mrs. Letha Astry, 18th District committeewoman.

Euclid Doctor Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Orr Falls, 69, of Euclid, a medical practitioner in greater Cleveland for 42 years and health director of East Cleveland public schools, died Thursday in Euclid Glenville Hospital.

Parachute jumpers were first used to fight forest fires on July 12, 1940, in the Nezperce National Forest, near Grangeville, Idaho.

2 Area Men Receive Doctorates At OSU

Two area men received doctorate degrees at summer quarter commencement exercises this morning at Ohio State University in Columbus.

The recipients are Robert A. Brown of East Liverpool, and Robert V. Watkins of Wellsville, doctor of philosophy degrees.

Also receiving degrees were Charles H. Vermillion of East Liverpool, bachelor's degree in electrical engineering, and Jerry L. Cosgrove of Salem, master of science degree.

Clarence J. Galleher of Toronto received a bachelor's degree in fine arts.

Recalls Judge's Request

Justice Weygandt Keeps Promise And Visits Fair

LISBON — Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court toured the Columbiana County Fair Thursday in connection with his appearance at Lisbon and declared: "I have kept my promise!"

Then he explained that the late Judge L. T. Farr of Rogers, who served on the 7th District Court of Appeals, had always remarked about the county fair and had urged the chief justice to visit it.

Judge Weygandt toured the fair with Atty. Lynn Riddle of Lisbon after addressing the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Eagles Lodge diningroom. Among the 70 Kiwanians and guests were several attorneys and judges of the Columbiana County Bar Association.

The veteran jurist — 33 years on the Supreme Court bench — recalled several Columbiana County associations. He knew Atty. Riddle's father, Probate Judge Lodge Riddle; he and the late Miss Sadie P. VanFossan, a Lisbon principal, were in the class of 1912 at the College of Wooster; he gave a commencement address here at her request in the 1920's, and early in the 1930's he gave the Memorial Day address at Rogers for Judge Farr.

Judge Weygandt said his father, a former Common Pleas Court Judge in Wayne County, told him " 'The three indispensables for a judge on any court are (1) patience, (2) more patience, and (3) still more patience'."

His father also told him to remember " 'that most of the litigants who come before you have never been in court before and will be scared half out of their wits; every judge needs to give the litigants a chance to tell their full story'."

The chief justice said "organized government can have no greater responsibility than even-handed administration of justice for the people it serves in this troubled world."

Guests included the Rev. W. A. Hewitt and Atty. William Bush, both of Wellsville; Windsor Wright of Dover, Del., James Hanna of Parma, Oliver Payne, new superintendent of Lisbon schools; Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool, Judge Ernest VanFossan, Atty. William Moore, James MacDonald Jr. and Paul Young of Lisbon.

Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher Bob Friend tied for most National League victories with 22 in 1958 and led the league in most defeats with 19 the following year.

Someone Minding The Store

It is an unwritten rule in news reporting in this country that every difference of opinion between public figures should be referred to as a quarrel. The right psychology, as far as reporters are concerned, calls for an atmosphere of conflict in public affairs.

It is assumed voters and citizens in general will pay attention only to quarrels and altercations. Debates are all right in their places, but a debate lacks merit unless it generates enough friction to shoot off sparks.

Without intending to do injury to the two-party system, this universal treatment of political discussion as personal controversy has done great mischief. Political discussion in Britain is handled much better.

IT IS ASSUMED in British politics that spokesmen for the party in power and the party out of power will be sharp with one another. It is standard practice for them to do this in Parliament as well as on speaking platforms. A routine debate in the House of Commons when the members are in good form would sound like the opening round of a riot in our Congress, where many holds are barred.

The British citizenry takes this for what it's worth. Most of it is enjoyed. Much of it is fashioned for enjoyment; wit and sarcasm are standard fare in British politics.

It would be well if they became standard fare in U.S. politics, to help dispel the idea that political leaders are being personally vindictive when they attack each other.

This is part of their job. Ability to do it without losing poise is one of the marks of political ability.

IT IS BEING pointed out currently that Dwight D. Eisenhower has been lacing into President Kennedy and vice versa. True to form, this is being reported as evidence of a falling-out between the two men.

Couldn't it just as well be that the former president is minding the store in this part of the country while the Republican party's nominal leader is fighting for his political life in California? In the absence of the 1960 presdential candidate, who has a better right to speak than the 1952-1956 candidate?

If Mr. Eisenhower didn't speak out, who would speak on this side of the Mississippi for the Republican party?

By the same token if President Kennedy didn't blame the Eisenhower administration for everything he can't fix, whose administration would he blame? Harry Truman's? This is 1962, after all—the year for a congressional election.

The two-party system requires understanding. The system makes it possible to have two points of view without a revolution or a purge. Every discussion, every critical remark, does not constitute a feud.

Down By The River

The Ohio River's value as a tourist attraction will be demonstrated again Sept. 2 when the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors a regatta at the foot of Broadway.

The event will bring many water enthusiasts to the city for the first time and will serve to point out once more the major asset we have in the mighty Ohio.

Let's hope the regatta will prove so successful that it will become a permanent fixture.

De Gaulle Remained Calm

Reports from Paris say President de Gaulle and Mrs. de Gaulle remained calm throughout the excitement of an attempted assassination. It was the third known attempt to murder the Frenchman who symbolizes the indomitable spirit of a new France.

De Gaulle is vastly more than a French politician or a French militarist. He is the incarnation of a fierce pride in the kind of France he believes can be reconstituted. He is a living legend of himself — the proud man who refused to accept the recapitulation of his country's rabbity politicians to Germany in World War II — the fearless leader who, condemned to death by the Petain government, resolutely set about to put together a new force that would keep the spirit of France alive.

Death never has been a remote possibility to Charles de Gaulle. It has been his constant companion. He has discounted the blow it will deliver one day, whether by an assassin's bullet, a knife, a bomb, or perhaps by some illness of his own.

He undoubtedly would like to live to see what becomes of the new France now rising spectacularly from the ashes of the France the politicians destroyed after De Gaulle had helped to wrest it from the Germans. But he undoubtedly has prepared himself for death so many times that one more attempt on his life is part of the routine he endures for France.

Frenchmen are lucky the assassins' bullets missed their president and his lady. They need Charles de Gaulle as long as his natural life lasts.

A Chance To Live

Reports keep coming about a municipal judge in Santa Monica, Calif., who is experimenting with shock psychology in traffic court. His name is W. Blair Gibbens.

Fines and jail sentences, he has concluded, aren't having much effect. They apparently represent the losers' penalties in a game played with traffic policemen. They are like fouls in a basketball game; they do not call for any personal remorse.

Judge Gibbens is trying to get at the conscience and the consciousness of the people who come into his court by having them view the consequences of wrong-doing in automobiles. He sends them to hospitals to see the mangled bodies of traffic accident victims. His favorite method is to take $5 off their fines if they will watch a showing of a movie made by the Ohio Highway Patrol—"Signal 30."

This movie was shown widely in Ohio to groups, until it was realized that the shock of seeing its horrors was more than sensitive viewers could stand. Women fainted. Strong men gulped.

Judge Gibbens leaves the decision to the violators. For $5 they can scare themselves so badly they will become defensive drivers and have a chance to live to a ripe old age.

Self-Tightened Drug Laws

The drug horse having been almost stolen, Congress now will lock the barn door, which is the customary procedure in lawmaking.

But before the public reaches the customary conclusion that it is being protected against all drugs because lawmakers have passed another law, there is a salient fact to consider.

All the tightening of drug laws that Congress can bring about and all the security that hard-nosed administration of these laws can bring about will not be as important to consumers of drugs as the protection they give themselves.

In many of the cases of infant deformity caused by the drug thalidomide, the drug was being used in a situation that was potentially dangerous without asking a physician's advice.

In the most publicized case of the use of thalidomide in the United States, an expectant mother had been taking thalidomide because it was on hand, having been bought abroad by her husband. In Germany, the drug could be bought without a prescription.

Many Americans have become pill-happy; we gobble pills as if they were going out of style. We hoard them from previous illnesses and take them the next time we're under the weather. We gulp them on general principles. It's a wonder we don't do more damage to ourselves than we do.

"Drug laws self-tightened" would be a smart slogan for all of us.

As We Were Saying

By Truman Twill

While it's still vivid in my mind, I want to say what I couldn't say when the nice deputy sheriff told me to move on because traffic was piling up behind us. He had stopped me to point out I was going over 40 miles an hour on a 35-mile highway.

I admitted the charge. I had gone around the deputy's car deliberately to draw the charge. I knew I was being followed. I held my speed a trifle under 45 to make my case.

Anyone driving 35 miles an hour on a highway like this constitutes a traffic menace because everybody else going the same direction is trying to get around him.

Gradually, I edged up to a cruising speed between 40 and 45 — and even at that rate my pokiness was a source of danger to other motorists.

That's why the nice deputy and I were having this little chat about the established fact I had been traveling up to 45 miles an hour on a highway posted for 35 miles. I had passed his patrol car intentionally to draw him into conversation. It was the first time I ever had seen a patrol car on this highway when I was using it. I was impressed.

When finally he told me to move on because we were building a traffic jam, I moved on at 35 miles. The signs are intended to be taken seriously. I shall drive at that speed scrupulously, just as I did before.

But if it again becomes evident that I am constituting a traffic hazard by going so slowly everybody coming up from the rear is impelled to pass me because I am blocking the road, I shall step up my speed again to the old rate.

What's the issue?

Why would a traffic chicken like me who drives so cautiously the tires on his cars always are good for double mileage deliberately draw a rebuke for driving over a speed limit?

Because years of safe driving (knock wood —never an accident) have convinced me that one of the most dangerously unrealistic things we do about traffic is to post speed limits that are unrealistically low and aren't going to be enforced, then leave it up to drivers to figure out what to do. I trust that tonight when I go home everybody will be moving along nice and easy at 35 — but it won't.

I didn't have it all off my chest when the nice deputy said to move on. I was getting ready to tell him about the kooks who burn up that highway at 80 and the lame-brains who pass you on hills and blind curves if you don't stay ahead of them. He should come back and have a chat with them sometime.

Peiping Red Rule Still All Powerful

By Victor Riesel

HONG KONG

This dispatch comes to you from a spot surrounded by Chinese Communist (Chi-Com) gunboats and British patrol and small police jet engine craft — a spot not too far from the famed free world of Susie Wong. British patrol fire has just killed two of 79 refugees in a Chinese junk trying to reach this free world. The incident was as dramatic as it was pathetic. But the sheer bloody drama of it all is deceiving many back home, including many respected experts.

Victor Riesel

The traumatic refugee outpouring and reports of the vastest starvation in civilized history are being interpreted as the signs of imminent collapse of the Chi-Coms and the beginning of a revolution against Mao Tse-tung's government.

Nothing could be further from the facts.

THE CHINESE Communist government in Peiping still is all powerful. It is troubled. But it isn't shaken.

There will not be any successful revolution from within.

The present Chi-Com leaders will not lose their grip on either the Chinese Communist party or the government. And the government positively will not lose its grip on the people or the nation from Lhasa to Shanghai, from the north to the nearby Canton line.

The view of our own and British specialists in this Macao - Hong Kong frontier sector — men who have been here for many years—can be put this way:

The Chi-Coms have lost considerable popular support. But their stability and power have not been noticeably affected. This is due largely to the far-flung and comprehensive control apparatus they have methodically built over the past 10 years.

THE CENTRAL core of this control system is the Chinese Communist party. It has more than 17 million members. This makes it the world's largest Communist party.

This, in turn, is supported by a vast, loyal and well-indoctrinated military "establishment." Party membership still is a prize. Millions struggle to get in.

It still puts members, and so does the military, in the highest social strata. This means fair housing, good food and clothing and administrative and "foremen" type jobs.

As a proving ground for the Communist party there is the Young Communist League of more than 25 million young activists who regulary receive "Six Level" instructions.

Thus, this Youth League plus the party and the military make up a pro-government force of some 50 million people. Their interests are directly interwoven with the stability of the regime.

IN ADDITION there are "People's" organizations. These groups include labor unions, women's groups, youth organizations and even religious units such as the All-China Islamic Association and the All-China Protestant Organization.

They are used by the regime to maintain contact with the people, to test public opinion, to insure enforcement of its policies — and to provide the outlets for the greatest internal espionage system in the world.

This has made for the most stable party control in the history of Communist parties.

While other Communist parties have been purged and repurged and their leaders killed and exiled, the Chi-Com party has been under the constant leadership of Mao Tse-tung and a small nucleus of his closest associates for the past 25 years.

IT EXHIBITS the greatest degree of leadership stability of any Communist party.

No ruling group in the world has ever commanded such complete dictatorial power as that exercised by the small Standing Committee of the Chinese Communist Politburo.

Thus the ability of the regime to remain in power despite the growing hunger and disillusionment of the people is easily explainable in terms of the utterly complete organizational controls which the Chinese Communists command over all the people.

This command can be exerted to force at least passive compliance from every person in a nation of almost 700 million people.

Any person who believes otherwise is smoking political heroin—and is living in a dream world.

It is of utmost importance to check the refugees' records. This has been done. I have been told of the results.

They tell the real story:

Not a single military official, of all the tens of thousands of recent refugees, has defected to the free world.

Not a labor leader has defected.

Not a single important intellectual leader, not a single party leader, not a single writer, artist or scientist has come over.

This is the true test.

The Chi-Com hold is powerful. The Peiping government will not be overthrown from within.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1962. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1814, President and Mrs. James Madison and the cabinet fled from Washington, D.C., before the British burned the city's public buildings, including the Capitol and White House. Mrs. Madison saved a copy of the Declaration of Independence and a painting of George Washington from the White House.

On this date:

In 1777, George Washington led his Continental Army into Philadelphia.

In 1869, Cornelius Swartout of Troy, N.Y., received a patent for a waffle iron.

In 1944, U.S. and French troops entered Paris during World War II.

Today's birthday:

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston is 67.

Mess In Washington

By David Lawrence

Bipartisan Coalition Faces Test At Polls

There certainly is a "mess in Washington" these days. It is due almost entirely to the fact that the Democratic party is split into a radical — or so-called liberal faction and a conservative faction.

David Lawrence

Actually, the record of recent years shows that a Democratic-controlled Congress gets along better with a Republican president for the radical wing of the Democratic party produces an unstable and confusing situation.

Claims were made during the 1960 election campaign that, because the nation had experienced an era of divided government, it would be better to have both the legislative and executive branches of the government in the hands of the Democrats. This has not turned out to be a remedy, either.

President Eisenhower got along with the Democratic majority in Congress because he had the help of the conservative Democratic bloc as well as the conservative Republican bloc. The bipartisan coalition which was in the majority reflected the conservative mood of the country.

The recent filibuster in Congress was really a revolt by the radical bloc in the Democratic party against its own leadership.

This group hoped to turn a hesitant President away from his natural inclination to take a more or less conservative course and to draw him closer to the radical cause. But Mr. Kennedy has had troubles with the conservative bloc, too, as on medical care.

SOME ASPECTS of the whole problem of presidential leadership at a time like this were interestingly discussed the other day by the conservative Democrat, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, often referred to as one of the most powerful men in the Senate.

He is a forthright individual who expresses his convictions clearly and sticks to them. He led the fight against the President's legislative proposals on medical care for the aged. Sen. Kerr was asked on a TV program, "Meet the Press," whether he and other members of the Democratic party in Congress were "going to be dictated to from the White House." He replied:

"Why certainly we are not going to be dictated to by the White House, any more than the White House is going to be dictated to by us. No man in the Senate respects or loves the President of the United States any more than I do. And I shall act on that basis. But I love the people of Oklahoma more than I do the President of the United States."

MR. KERR was also asked by Richard Wilson of the Cowles publications the following question:

"Do you feel that it is appropriate for a man who represents one state to insist upon his point of view above the point of view of a man who is elected by all the people of all the states?"

"Well," replied Sen. Kerr, "if man doesn't represent the view point of his constituents, they w get rid of him and send somebod here that will. You know when th government was set up and t Constitution was written, it w written so that each state wou have two senators. And there w a great divergence of interest the time that that Constitution w written and the first 13 states se their representatives here. T divergence is even greater toda

"But remember this, Mr. W son, that that divergence betwe all of the economic groups in t country and the sum total of th welfare is what makes up t strength, the economic progre the position, the growth and velopment of this country.

"And certainly the Constitut said, 'No man shall be denied right of petition to his Congres and that means whether he is worker, an employer, a farmer trucker, a railroader, a pov man, an oil man, a manufa urer, a lawyer, a doctor or wh ever his business is.

"The sum total of all of th economic interests make up t sum total of America. And t men in the Congress repres those various interests.

"And God grant that they ways do, because if they did then you would have one grou Americans superior over anot and then we would cease to b democracy and lose the ben of a representative form of ernment, because, to make work, we must represent all people in this country."

THE FOREGOING is an curate statement of the poli theory behind congressional resentation. Its wisdom will be bated. For the American sy would be paralyzed if grou organization pressures were dominate the government.

Too often the pressure gr are self-centered and are not ing to listen to argument abou overall public interest.

What really has happene America is that public intere often interpreted, even by a ident, as synonymous with p cal interest.

Party responsibility, which emphasized for decades in A can history, has not been fix recent years because of rivalr tween factions within a part

A bipartisan coalition for than 30 years now has cont a majority in both houses of gress. This has saved Am from radicalism.

The congressional electio November will determine if coalition is to be weakened o so-called liberal or radical is going to acquire the balan power in Congress.

If successful, this group dictate to the White House course of legislation and America further toward ownership, more deficit spe and more and more deprec of the purchasing power of dollar. That's the real issu hind the "mess in Washin today.

New, Golden Paris

By Nicholas King

PARIS

Paris is changing color. That is the one great fact about the city that strikes the returning visitor in the summer of 1962.

It is like that huge Rembrandt which used to be called "The Night Watch," and whose rich, nocturnal blacks and browns were the inspiration of many a piece of enraptured art criticism. When the picture was cleaned a few years ago, it turned out that Rembrandt had painted his group portrait in broad daylight.

So the soft grays and browns that seemed to generations of travelers the essential color of Paris, the mirror of its gray autumn skies and the mood of its summer twilights, are disappearing under the cleaners' soap and water. The result is a raw gold, like beach sand, spread across facades which seem to have lost their shadows along with their grime.

THE PLACE de la Concorde, for example, is like an overexposed photograph of its old self. The great twin facades of Gabriel have acquired the soft, implausible air of mocha icing on a tributary cake.

The Institut de France, whose dome, the second finest in Paris, shelters the deliberations of the French Academy, seems paler and smaller, indecently flayed. The Cour Carre of the Louvre is a shock, too.

But the biggest surprise is the Invalides. Instead of the huge, flat, inscrutable, Muscovite bulk lying hard and dark across the river behind the golden horses of the Pont Alexandre III, there is now a flating, cafe-au-lait composition whose many small windows, previously invisible, stick o turbingly like those of an ment house in Naples.

It is hard to imagine tha was the original color Parisian monuments, but t is hard to imagine that the cathedrals were once white few more years, no doubt, will be praising the new Paris as enthusiastically a did the old gray one.

The cleaning has been go for many months and wi many more. It is the kind of public work the old French lics could never get arou they could not keep even les from falling down.

This is something on a scale, something to which tion could be loftily silenc work of a monarch and hi cilors who were irritated fo by the gray streaks and of the old capital.

The Elysee Palace, whe de Gaulle lives, is the clear brightest of all — although be said it was put in ord before he took up residen

Someone Minding The Store

It is an unwritten rule in news reporting in this country that every difference of opinion between public figures should be referred to as a quarrel. The right psychology, as far as reporters are concerned, calls for an atmosphere of conflict in public affairs.

It is assumed voters and citizens in general will pay attention only to quarrels and altercations. Debates are all right in their places, but a debate lacks merit unless it generates enough friction to shoot off sparks.

Without intending to do injury to the two-party system, this universal treatment of political discussion as personal controversy has done great mischief. Political discussion in Britain is handled much better.

IT IS ASSUMED in British politics that spokesmen for the party in power and the party out of power will be sharp with one another. It is standard practice for them to do this in Parliament as well as on speaking platforms. A routine debate in the House of Commons when the members are in good form would sound like the opening round of a riot in our Congress, where many holds are barred.

The British citizenry takes this for what it's worth. Most of it is enjoyed. Much of it is fashioned for enjoyment; wit and sarcasm are standard fare in British politics.

It would be well if they became standard fare in U.S. politics, to help dispel the idea that political leaders are being personally vindictive when they attack each other.

This is part of their job. Ability to do it without losing poise is one of the marks of political ability.

IT IS BEING pointed out currently that Dwight D. Eisenhower has been lacing into President Kennedy and vice versa. True to form, this is being reported as evidence of a falling-out between the two men.

Couldn't it just as well be that the former president is minding the store in this part of the country while the Republican party's nominal leader is fighting for his political life in California? In the absence of the 1960 presdential candidate, who has a better right to speak than the 1952-1956 candidate?

If Mr. Eisenhower didn't speak out, who would speak on this side of the Mississippi for the Republican party?

By the same token if President Kennedy didn't blame the Eisenhower administration for everything he can't fix, whose administration would he blame? Harry Truman's? This is 1962, after all—the year for a congressional election.

Not a single military official, of all the tens of thousands of recent refugees, has defected to the free world.

Not a labor leader has defected.

Not a single important intellectual leader, not a single party leader, not a single writer, artist or scientist has come over.

This is the true test.

The Chi-Com hold is powerful. The Peiping government will not be overthrown from within.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1962. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1814, President and Mrs. James Madison and the cabinet fled from Washington, D.C., before the British burned the city's public buildings, including the Capitol and White House. Mrs. Madison saved a copy of the Declaration of Independence and a painting of George Washington from the White House.

On this date:

In 1777, George Washington led his Continental Army into Philadelphia.

In 1869, Cornelius Swartout of Troy, N.Y., received a patent for a waffle iron.

In 1891, Thomas Edison applied for a patent for a motion picture camera but didn't receive it until the same date six years later.

In 1944, U.S. and French troops entered Paris during World War II.

Today's birthday:

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston is 67.

Mess In Washington

By David Lawrence

Bipartisan Coalition Faces Test At Polls

There certainly is a "mess in Washington" these days. It is due almost entirely to the fact that the Democratic party is split into a radical — or so - called liberal faction and a conservative faction.

David Lawrence

Actually, the record of recent years shows that a Democratic-controlled Congress gets along better with a Republican president for the radical wing of the Democratic party produces an unstable and confusing situation.

Claims were made during the 1960 election campaign that, because the nation had experienced an era of divided government, it would be better to have both the legislative and executive branches of the government in the hands of the Democrats. This has not turned out to be a remedy, either.

President Eisenhower got along with the Democratic majority in Congress because he had the help of the conservative Democratic bloc as well as the conservative Republican bloc. The bipartisan coalition which was in the majority reflected the conservative mood of the country.

The recent filibuster in Congress was really a revolt by the radical bloc in the Democratic party against its own leadership.

This group hoped to turn a hesitant President away from his natural inclination to take a more or less conservative course and to draw him closer to the radical cause. But Mr. Kennedy has had troubles with the conservative bloc, too, as on medical care.

SOME ASPECTS of the whole problem of presidential leadership at a time like this were interestingly discussed the other day by the conservative Democrat, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, often referred to as one of the most powerful men in the Senate.

He is a forthright individual who expresses his convictions clearly and sticks to them. He led the fight against the President's legislative proposals on medical care for the aged. Sen. Kerr was asked on a TV program, "Meet the Press," whether he and other members of the Democratic party in Congress were "going to be dictated to from the White House." He replied:

"Why certainly we are not going to be dictated to by the White House, any more than the White House is going to be dictated to by us. No man in the Senate respects or loves the President of the United States any more than I do. And I shall act on that basis. But I love the people of Oklahoma more than I do the President of the United States."

MR. KERR was also asked by Richard Wilson of the Cowles publications the following question:

"Do you feel that it is appropriate for a man who represents one state to insist upon his point of view above the point of view of a man who is elected by all the people of all the states?"

"Well," replied Sen. Kerr, "if a man doesn't represent the viewpoint of his constituents, they will get rid of him and send somebody here that will. You know when this government was set up and the Constitution was written, it was written so that each state would have two senators. And there was a great divergence of interest at the time that that Constitution was written and the first 13 states sent their representatives here. The divergence is even greater today.

"But remember this, Mr. Wilson, that that divergence between all of the economic groups in this country and the sum total of their welfare is what makes up the strength, the economic progress, the position, the growth and development of this country.

"And certainly the Constitution said, 'No man shall be denied the right of petition to his Congress.' and that means whether he is a worker, an employer, a farmer, a trucker, a railroader, a power man, an oil man, a manufacturer, a lawyer, a doctor or whatever his business is.

"The sum total of all of those economic interests make up the sum total of America. And the men in the Congress represent those various interests.

"And God grant that they always do, because if they didn't, then you would have one group of Americans superior over another and then we would cease to be a democracy and lose the benefits of a representative form of government, because, to make that work, we must represent all the people in this country."

THE FOREGOING is an accurate statement of the political theory behind congressional representation. Its wisdom will be debated. For the American system would be paralyzed if group or organization pressures were to dominate the government.

Too often the pressure groups are self-centered and are not willing to listen to argument about the overall public interest.

What really has happened to America is that public interest is often interpreted, even by a president, as synonymous with political interest.

Party responsibility, which was emphasized for decades in American history, has not been fixed in recent years because of rivalry between factions within a party.

A bipartisan coalition for more than 30 years now has controlled a majority in both houses of Congress. This has saved America from radicalism.

The congressional elections in November will determine if this coalition is to be weakened or if a so-called liberal or radical group is going to acquire the balance of power in Congress.

If successful, this group could dictate to the White House the course of legislation and move America further toward public ownership, more deficit spending and more and more depreciation of the purchasing power of the dollar. That's the real issue behind the "mess in Washington" today.

New, Golden Paris

By Nicholas King

PARIS

Paris is changing color. That is the one great fact about the city that strikes the returning visitor in the summer of 1962.

It is like that huge Rembrandt which used to be called "The Night Watch," and whose rich, nocturnal blacks and browns were the inspiration of many a piece of enraptured art criticism. When the picture was cleaned a few years ago, it turned out that Rembrandt had painted his group portrait in broad daylight.

So the soft grays and browns that seemed to generations of travelers the essential color of Paris, the mirror of its gray autumn skies and the mood of its summer twilights, are disappearing under the cleaners' soap and water. The result is a raw gold, like beach sand, spread across facades which seem to have lost their shadows along with their grime.

THE PLACE de la Concorde, for example, is like an overexposed photograph of its old self. The great twin facades of Gabriel have acquired the soft, implausible air of mocha icing on a tributary cake.

The Institut de France, whose dome, the second finest in Paris, shelters the deliberations of the French Academy, seems paler and smaller, indecently flayed. The Cour Carre of the Louvre is a shock, too.

But the biggest surprise is the Invalides. Instead of the huge, flat, inscrutable, Muscovite bulk lying hard and dark across the river behind the golden horses of the Pont Alexandre III, there is now a flating, cafe-au-lait composition whose many small windows, previously invisible, stick out disturbingly like those of an apartment house in Naples.

It is hard to imagine that this was the original color of the Parisian monuments, but then it is hard to imagine that the Gothic cathedrals were once white. In a few more years, no doubt, people will be praising the new yellow Paris as enthusiastically as they did the old gray one.

The cleaning has been going on for many months and will take many more. It is the kind of grand public work the old French republics could never get around to—they could not keep even Versailles from falling down.

This is something on a greater scale, something to which opposition could be loftily silenced, the work of a monarch and his councilors who were irritated for years by the gray streaks and smears of the old capital.

The Elysee Palace, where Gen. de Gaulle lives, is the cleanest and brightest of all — although it must be said it was put in order long before he took up residence.

Girl, Injured By Car, Takes First Steps On Artificial Legs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — At 19, Diane Mills is taking her first steps for the second time in her life—now on new artificial legs, and with optimism.

"Why, if I don't miss any of my exercises or give any excuses —I've already used all there are in the book—I should be out of the hospital the first of the month," said the attractive brunette.

Diane has known only hospitals since March 27. That night she was using the family car to visit a girl friend when it ran out of gasoline. As she stood by the car, refueling it from a can, Diane was hit by another machine, crushed between them.

"The minute it happened I knew I was going to lose my legs," Diane said. "But now I guess it was better that way. I was conscious when I went into the operating room and nobody had to tell me."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mills of suburban Edina, and her brothers, Dwight, 25, and Harry, 17, at first joined in her despair.

But then Diane had a visitor at the hospital, a 12-year-old boy stricken with muscular dystrophy and also a hospital patient. He patted her hand and shyly said, "Cheer up Diane, life isn't so bad."

"Here was this little boy, so terribly sick himself, and still telling me to cheer up," Diane said. "You just have to stop feeling sorry for yourself when something like that happens."

"I guess it's a case of thinking there's nothing bad in the world just because nothing bad has happened to you," she added. "Why, since I've been in the hospital two of my friends have been killed in car accidents."

Response Seen Good For Dollar Day Event

Tri-State District shoppers showed "good" response to the semi-annual Dollar Day sale Thursday, officials of the East Liverpool Merchants Association commented today.

In general, merchants were well-pleased with the volume of business in the 11-hour event that closed last night at 8:30, ELMA said. Sunny, bright weather was credited with aiding the turnout.

Heavy morning patronage was indicated by the fact all public parking lots were jammed shortly after the stores opened and the new municipal lot on the site of the former Ceramic Theater was filled to capacity for the first time since meters were installed, ELMA officials said.

Senate Hikes Disabled Vets' Compensation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill boosting the compensation of 1,916,740 disabled veterans by $98 million a year.

Approval Thursday night sent the measure back to the House for action on a Senate amendment to make it effective July 1. The House had decided to put the measure into effect two months after it becomes law.

Disabled veterans now get about $2 billion a year in compensation payments.

Compensation for a fully disabled veteran who needs an attendant would go up from $600 to $725 a month. A veteran with 10 per cent disability would get $20 instead of $19 monthly.

Rhodes Hurls Laxity Count At Ohio Unit

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, charged here Thursday night that the Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development (DIED) took 388 days to notify a community that an industry was interested in locating there.

Rhodes said the department was contacted Feb. 8, 1960, by an overhead material handling equipment firm which expressed interest in the Mansfield area. He said the department, however, did not notify William McCarty, manager of the Area Industrial Growth, Inc., of North Central Ohio, which has offices in Mansfield, until March 3, 1961.

"This is an example of how DIED has failed to fulfill the need in Ohio for aggressiveness in expanding existing industry and obtaining new industry," Rhodes asserted.

He also charged that Fairfield County has lost 132 jobs in the past three years which would have added $495,000 in retail sales, supported 244 homes, 211 automobiles and $990,000 in insurance.

"You have been hearing a lot of statistics, I know," the Republican said, "but you've only been given half of the picture. I believe these accurate figures will give you an idea of how things are really doing in Fairfield County and across Ohio."

President Franklin D. Roosevelt had three vice presidents serve under him. They were John Garner, Henry Wallace, and Harry S. Truman.

Officer Raps Theft Charge

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — Accused Bluefield Patrolman Ted R. Land, after vehemently denying theft charges, was to resume the witness stand today for more cross-examination.

Land repeatedly denied yesterday connection with any thefts, including a breaking and entering at a Bluefield automobile agency for which he is being tried.

Mercer County Prosecutor W. O. Bivens Jr. had begun his cross-examination of Land when Criminal Court Judge Howard M. Jarrett adjourned court for the day.

Seven officers, including Land, are charged in connection with a series of thefts dating back to 1946. Two of the accused, former Lt. Charles H. Fox and former Sgt. R. R. Gibson, testified that Land — on separate occasions — had been the partner of each in breaking into a total of some 20 business establishments. Fox and Gibson resigned after they were arrested.

Land testified yesterday there was ill feeling between himself and Fox since Land went to the Fox home in 1959 at the request of Mrs. Fox. Land said Mrs. Fox told him her husband chased her into a bathroom and fired a bullet through the door. Fox resented his presence, Land said, and "told me he would get even with me sometime . . . he was mad at me."

Defense Attorney Walter V. Ross said he expected the case to reach the jury of eight men and four women sometime today.

Land said yesterday that attorney Joseph M. Sanders Jr. questioned him June 28, and said, " 'if you'll go ahead and plead guilty to one of these charges it would help Charlie Fox out and you would make probation also.'

"I told him I was not guilty and was not pleading guilty," Land said.

Wellsville Plans Organization Of Young GOP Club

A group of young Republicans met with the Wellsville GOP central committee Thursday night at the Carnegie Library to begin plans for formation of a Wellsville Area Young Republican Club.

The group selected a steering committee to assist in the organization and serve in an advisory capacity.

Glenn Dixon was named chairman. Next meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 20. Officers of the Ohio Young Republicans Club will be obtained for the program and to assist in the organization.

Others on the committee include Allan J. Dalrymple, programs; Atty. William Bush, publicity; William J. Shoub, city GOP chairman, attendance and membership, and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, refreshments.

Other members of the GOP central committee will work on membership along with Byron Carter, Mrs. Joann Dixon and George Grafton.

All interested young men and women in the Wellsville - Salineville area are invited to join.

No specific age limit has been set. The club will do this in its by-laws when they are adopted.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average four to six degress above normal. Normal high 80-81, normal low 58-63. Warm throughout, but some moderation over weekend. Showers or thundershowers expected to move over area over weekend.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 82-86, normal low 60-63. Cooler over weekend, warmer by Wednesday. Rainfall will be light, averaging less than one-fourth inch in scattered thundershowers over weekend.

Highlight Of Fair

Hookstown King, Queen Crowned

Miss Marilyn Soisson was crowned queen and James Swogger, king, Thursday evening at the 16th annual Hookstown Grange fair, which ends Saturday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soisson of Greene Township, she was crowned by Miss Joyce Hobbs of Hanover Township, the 1960 queen. Miss Soisson has had nine years of club work in the Hookstown Agricultural Club and the Greene Township Sewing Club.

She received three blue and three red ribbons in the livestock judging Thursday. A June graduate of South Side High School, she plans to enter Edinboro State Teachers College in the fall.

Swogger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swogger of Center Township, was crowned by last year's king, Kenny Soisson, of Greene Township. He has completed five years of club work in the Center Township Agricultural Club and is a junior at Aliquippa High School.

Alternates were Miss Marjorie Cochran of Big Beaver Township, Lester Fischer and Miss Peggy Sloppy, both of Hanover Township, and James Trozzo of Darlington Township.

The evening program included a clarinet selection by Miss Diane Franzine and Miss Sharon Boyer of New Brighton. The Spirit of 4-H was presented by the Apache 4-H Club of Chester under the direction of its leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glenn.

Beaver County 4-H members were honored Thursday. Activities included judging of cattle, chickens, rabbits, sheep, pigs, a tractor rodeo and the crowning.

Winners of the tractor driving rodeo were John Hobbs, first; Eddie Hobbs, second; Jerry Windsheimer, third, and Denny Arnold, fourth, all of the Dusty Ridge Club of Hanover Township.

Winners in the club displays were: home economics — 4-H Clovers of Independence Township, first; Greene Township, Sewing Club, second; Comets of Frankfort Springs, third, and New Somerset Farmerettes of near Toronto, fourth, and agricultural — Potter, first; Dusty Ride Ridge, second; Hopewell, third, and Center, fourth.

Winners of the tractor pulling contest Wednesday night in the under 3,500-pound class were Clarence Pugh of Pughtown, first; Homer Laughlin of Lisbon, second, and Bill Crummitt of New Cumberland, third.

In the 3,501-5,000-pound class — Floyd Pugh of Pughtown, first; Kenny Renfro of New Cumberland and Dick Hobbs of Chester, tied for second, and Bob Shannon of Hookstown, third.

Globe, Union Negotiations Will Continue

Negotiations for a new contract will continue Wednesday morning at 9 at the Hotel Wilk in Wellsville between the Globe Brick Co. and representatives of Local 647 of International Brick and Clay Workers employed at the Newell factory.

The local's two-year contract with Globe expires Aug. 31.

No decisions were reached at the third in a series of talks between Globe and a team of negotiators of Local 647 at a two-hour meeting Thursday in Wellsville.

The local said it is not seeking across - the - board pay increases, but is asking pension and retirement programs with emphasis on benefits for survivors of plant employes.

William F. Porter and William Webber, accompanied by Atty. Louis Emmanuel, represented Globe at Thursday's meeting, while William G. Brewer, president, headed the local's group of negotiators.

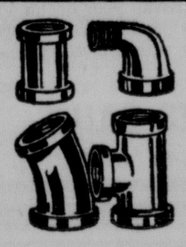

George Woomer, a federal mediator, will attend the next session Wednesday morning in Wellsville.

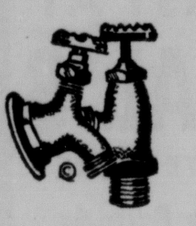

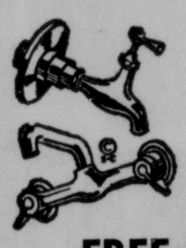

There are about 226 members of Local 647 employed at the factory.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For the first time in my life I have found out what to do with that toilet water that someone has given me.

On my "low days" (and there are darn many of them around this house with a bunch of kids) I sprinkle a dash of toilet water on my vacuum bag cleaner. As I vacuum the carpets, the odor permeates the entire house.

I find that this odor is most delightful when used in a vacuum cleaner.

ONE OF THE CLAN

For The Bird

DEAR HELOISE: Everybody is talking about how to clean bird cages, how many pieces of paper to use, etc. Well, I found that I can buy paper plates the exact size of my bird's cage and place in the bottom. This way all I do each day is lift one plate out. . .no mess, no fuss, no bother!

HELEANE IRWIN

Blanket Tip

DEAR HELOISE: I work for a dry cleaner. When washing blankets, my boss says only run the automatic washer three minutes. Do not use a dryer but dry your blanket in the air.

One can use a water softener but . . . the point is . . . most people run the blankets in the washing machine too long.

BLANKET SAVER

Run Stopper

DEAR HELOISE: To check an immediate run in a nylon stocking, did you know you could use liquid nail polish?

I find that colorless types are best.

Of course, if that isn't on hand and the run is above the knee or someplace it does not show, red is always acceptable in an emergency. At least, it keeps the run from running down to your ankle!

K. S.

Sewing Hint

DEAR HELOISE: Being a seamstress, I thought I would like to pass on this little hint to others who do their own sewing.

I removed the top drawer of my sewing machine. Turning it over, I drove nails into the bottom of the drawer, pointed side up. I find this most useful for holding all of my spools of thread.

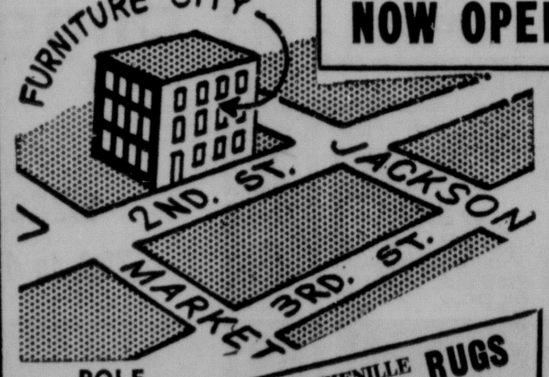

If people have the new type of machine where the drawer is not removable, they could cut a little piece of plywood to fit the bottom of the drawer and drive the nails through the plywood. Insert the whole kaboodle into the drawer itself. It is most satisfactory.

Officer Raps Theft Charge

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — Accused Bluefield Patrolman Ted R. Land, after vehemently denying theft charges, was to resume the witness stand today for more cross-examination.

Land repeatedly denied yesterday connection with any thefts, including a breaking and entering at a Bluefield automobile agency for which he is being tried.

Mercer County Prosecutor W. O. Bivens Jr. had begun his cross-examination of Land when Criminal Court Judge Howard M. Jarrett adjourned court for the day.

Seven officers, including Land, are charged in connection with a series of thefts dating back to 1946. Two of the accused, former Lt. Charles H. Fox and former Sgt. R. R. Gibson, testified that Land — on separate occasions — had been the partner of each in breaking into a total of some 20 business establishments. Fox and Gibson resigned after they were arrested.

Land testified yesterday there was ill feeling between himself and Fox since Land went to the Fox home in 1959 at the request of Mrs. Fox. Land said Mrs. Fox told him her husband chased her into a bathroom and fired a bullet through the door. Fox resented his presence, Land said, and "told me he would get even with me sometime . . . he was mad at me."

Defense Attorney Walter V. Ross said he expected the case to reach the jury of eight men and four women sometime today.

Land said yesterday that attorney Joseph M. Sanders Jr. questioned him June 28, and said, " 'if you'll go ahead and plead guilty to one of these charges it would help Charlie Fox out and you would make probation also."

"I told him I was not guilty and was not pleading guilty," Land said.

Wellsville Plans Organization Of Young GOP Club

A group of young Republicans met with the Wellsville GOP central committee Thursday night at the Carnegie Library to begin plans for formation of a Wellsville Area Young Republican Club.

The group selected a steering committee to assist in the organization and serve in an advisory capacity.

Glenn Dixon was named chairman. Next meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 20. Officers of the Ohio Young Republicans Club will be obtained for the program and to assist in the organization.

Others on the committee include Allan J. Dalrymple, programs; Atty. William Bush, publicity; William J. Shoub, city GOP chairman, attendance and membership, and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, refreshments.

Other members of the GOP central committee will work on membership along with Byron Carter, Mrs. Joann Dixon and George Grafton.

All interested young men and women in the Wellsville - Salineville area are invited to join.

No specific age limit has been set. The club will do this in its by-laws when they are adopted.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average four to six degress above normal. Normal high 80-81, normal low 58-63. Warm throughout, but some moderation over weekend. Showers or thundershowers expected to move over area over weekend.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 82-86, normal low 60-63. Cooler over weekend, warmer by Wednesday. Rainfall will be light, averaging less than one-fourth inch in scattered thundershowers over weekend.

Highlight Of Fair

Hookstown King, Queen Crowned

Miss Marilyn Soisson was crowned queen and James Swogger, king, Thursday evening at the 16th annual Hookstown Grange fair, which ends Saturday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soisson of Greene Township, she was crowned by Miss Joyce Hobbs of Hanover Township, the 1960 queen. Miss Soisson has had nine years of club work in the Hookstown Agricultural Club and the Greene Township Sewing Club.

She received three blue and three red ribbons in the livestock judging Thursday. A June graduate of South Side High School, she plans to enter Edinboro State Teachers College in the fall.

Swogger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swogger of Center Township, was crowned by last year's king, Kenny Soisson, of Greene Township. He has completed five years of club work in the Center Township Agricultural Club and is a junior at Aliquippa High School.

Alternates were Miss Marjorie Cochran of Big Beaver Township, Lester Fischer and Miss Peggy Sloppy, both of Hanover Township, and James Trozzo of Darlington Township.

The evening program included a clarinet selection by Miss Diane Franzine and Miss Sharon Boyer of New Brighton. The Spirit of 4-H was presented by the Apache 4-H Club of Chester under the direction of its leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glenn.

Beaver County 4-H members were honored Thursday. Activities included judging of cattle, chickens, rabbits, sheep, pigs, a tractor rodeo and the crowning.

Winners of the tractor driving rodeo were John Hobbs, first; Eddie Hobbs, second; Jerry Windsheimer, third, and Denny Arnold, fourth, all of the Dusty Ridge Club of Hanover Township.

Winners in the club displays were: home economics — 4-H Clovers of Independence Township, first; Greene Township, Sewing Club, second; Comets of Frankfort Springs, third, and New Somerset Farmerettes of near Toronto, fourth, and agricultural — Potter, first; Dusty Ride Ridge, second; Hopewell, third, and Center, fourth.

Winners of the tractor pulling contest Wednesday night in the under 3,500-pound class were Clarence Pugh of Pughtown, first; Homer Laughlin of Lisbon, second, and Bill Crummitt of New Cumberland, third.

In the 3,501-5,000-pound class — Floyd Pugh of Pughtown, first; Kenny Renfro of New Cumberland and Dick Hobbs of Chester, tied for second, and Bob Shannon of Hookstown, third.

5,001-6,500 - pound—Dale McCullough of Imperial, first; Kenny Renfo of New Cumberland, second, and Dave McGaffick of Georgetown, third; 6,501-8,000-pound — Dick Miller of Aliquippa, first; Hap Marberger, second, and Leo Nadiek, third, both of Clinton.

8,001-10,000 pound — Anderson Estates of Woodrow, Pa., first; Joe Brizzalie of Burgettstown, second, and Harold Hamilton of Bentlyville and John Anderson of Georgetown, tied for third.

Horses were to be judged this morning. Horse shows, sponsored by the Hookstown Saddle Club, were set for 2 p. m. and 7 tonight.

Saturday's entertainment includes lightweight horse pulling contest at 11 a. m., heavyweight at 2 p. m., Joe Bodrie, "Fastest Gun Alive," at 3:30 and 10 p. m., machinery and livestock parade at 7 and a talent contest at 9.

Parking and admission to the grounds are free.

Midland Post Seats Officers

Leon Anderson was installed as commander of Midland American Legion Post 533 Thursday evening at the post home. He succeeds Harry Hilton.

Other officers seated include Richard Copeland, first vice commander; Frank L. Clark, second vice commander; Arthur B. Pina, sergeant - at - arms; Willie Jones, adjutant; Samuel DeBerry, finance officer; Roosevelt Suggs Jr., chaplain; Hilton, historian, and Starling Johnson, service officer.

James Gabriel of New Castle, 26th District commander, was the installing officer, assisted by his deputies, including William E. Coble of Ohioville, sergeant-at-arms of District 26.

Other district deputies participating were Thomas W. Kysor and Earl Hildebrand, both of New Castle; Leonard Gaslansky of Bessemer, and Neil McKean of West Bridgewater.

Refreshments were served by the house committee.

Next meeting is Sept. 6.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For the first time in my life I have found out what to do with that toilet water that someone has given me.

On my "low days" (and there are darn many of them around this house with a bunch of kids) I sprinkle a dash of toilet water on my vacuum bag cleaner. As I vacuum the carpets, the odor permeates the entire house.

I find that this odor is most delightful when used in a vacuum cleaner.

DEAR HELOISE: Everybody is talking about how to clean bird cages, how many pieces of paper to use, etc. Well, I found that I can buy paper plates the exact size of my bird's cage and place in the bottom. This way all I do each day is lift one plate out. . .no mess, no fuss, no bother!

HELEANE IRWIN

Blanket Tip

DEAR HELOISE: I work for a dry cleaner. When washing blankets, my boss says only run the automatic washer three minutes. Do not use a dryer but dry your blanket in the air.

One can use a water softener but . . . the point is . . . most people run the blankets in the washing machine too long.

Sewing Hint

DEAR HELOISE: Being a seamstress, I thought I would like to pass on this little hint to others who do their own sewing.

I removed the top drawer of my sewing machine. Turning it over, I drove nails into the bottom of the drawer, pointed side up. I find this most useful for holding all of my spools of thread.

If people have the new type of machine where the drawer is not removable, they could cut a little piece of plywood to fit the bottom of the drawer and drive the nails through the plywood. Insert the whole kaboodle into the drawer itself. It is most satisfactory.

Legion Maps Area Session

Plans for a 10th District meeting were announced when the Jefferson County American Legion Council convened Tuesday night at Hammondsville Post 742.

Robert Noble of Apple Creek, district commander, said the fall conference will be held Sept. 9 at Creston in Wayne County. Arrangements have been made for a joint session with the district auxiliary.

Noble appointed Andrew Blaner of Toronto as chairman of the district committee on uniformed groups, and Henry Finkowski of Wintersville as a member of the legislation committee.

The council's quota for the membership drive now under way is 2,335, Dwight Bush of Homeworth, district first vice commander, reported. Membership last year totaled 2,138.

Harry Sutherin of Mingo outlined a plan to utilize existing facilities for Civil Defense work in Hammondsville and adjacent territory.

Walter Cox of Toronto, legislative chairman, reviewed the status of legislation pending in Congress which, if enacted, would reopen National Service Life Insurance for World War II veterans.

Michael Blischak, service officer, reported on progress of plans for organizing a committee of post service officers. Nelson Pinkerton is commander of the Hammondsville Post.

Wellsville Club Hears Grid Head

Kenneth Woods, head football coach, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Wellsville Omni Boosters Club Wednesday night at the high school cafeteria.

Woods outlined the regulations governing the players on the squad.

The club voted to purchase a tripod for a camera used to film football games. A discussion was held on holding a dinner for those who have worked on the new entrance at Nicholson Stadium. No date was set.

"Parents' Night" is planned Sept. 5 at the stadium. Football equipment will be displayed. Don Lindesmith is president.

Hays Says Capital Is Seeking Policemen

The Metropolitan Police Department at Washington is in need of additional policemen, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18 District congressman, said today. Applicants must be between 21 and 29. They also must be at least 68 inches tall, with a maximum height of 77 inches, and weigh at least 145.

Those who meet the basic requirements may obtain application forms from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., from the East Liverpool Post Office, or by writing the Training Division, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington.

Southern Local TB Test Action Clarified

Robert Skinner, president of the Southern Local Board of Education, said today the board did not pass a resolution requesting teachers to take the Heaf tuberculin test as originally reported.

The test will be available at the first county teachers meeting Sept. 4 at Beaver Local School, but Southern Local teachers do not have to take it if they do not want to, Skinner said.

He said a motion was made to adopt a resolution requesting the teachers to do so, but it died for lack of a second.

The act of perspiring prevents the body temperature from becoming too high. The perspiration evaporates, which cools off our bodies, because of the large amount of heat which is always absorbed when water changes from liquid into a gas.

$300 Damages Set In Rear-End Crash

Midland and West Union, W.Va., cars were involved in a rear-end collision on Route 66, a mile south of Chester, Wednesday afternoon at 4:15, causing total damage of $300.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said a 1959 model sedan driven by Pete Benedict, 22, of 1140 Virginia Ave., Midland, struck the rear of a 1962 model sedan driven by Orval T. Ferebee, 44, of West Union (Doddridge County).

Benedict told deputies he was unable to halt in time to avoid striking the rear of Ferebee's car that had stopped in the southbound lane of traffic.

Deputies estimated $200 damage to the left front of Benedict's car, and $100 to the rear of the other.

Senate Sets Sept. 17 As Constitution Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted by voice vote Thursday a resolution which would make Sept. 17 each year a legal holiday to be known as Constitution Day.

Next Sept. 17 will be the 175th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution.

The resolution now goes to the House.

Work Slated For Addition

EAST PALESTINE — The congregation of the First Church of Christ has approved a proposal for construction of a $110,000 addition to the church at N. Market and W. Martin Sts.

Work is to commence following a ground-breaking ceremony Sunday, Sept. 2.

Contracts have already been let, with Floyd Cox of East Liverpool awarded the general construction. Others went to the Dickey Electrical Co. of North Lima and the Salem Plumbing & Heating Co.

The 45-x-90-foot addition will serve primarily as an educational area. The sanctuary will remain in the present structure.

James Dodds is chairman of the building committee. The Rev. Dan Davis is minister.

24 Newell Pupils In Kindergarten

Newell's kindergarten classes will open Sept. 5 with almost double the enrollment of last year, Mrs. James Waggle of Chester, instructor, reported.

Twenty - four youngsters have been enrolled for the classes Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a. m. at the Newell American Legion home. There were 13 pupils last year.

Twenty - one mothers of prospective kindergarten pupils attended an organization meeting Wednesday night at the post home. Mrs. Vera Nease and Mrs. Helen Doane, first grade teachers at Newel Jefferson School, spoke. Mrs. Waggle outlined the program.

Tuition for the kindergarten, starting its third year in Newell, is $3 per week for each youngster.

Cincinnati Gets White House Nod On Freeway Plan

CINCINNATI (AP)—The White House has assured greater Cincinnati it will get all of the planned Circle Freeway—including a small slice through Southwest Indiana.

The announcement Thursday indicated the 24.2 miles needed to complete the big freeway had been given the green light by President Kennedy.

This meant that the 77-mile circle thoroughfare, expected to cost upwards of $155 million, will go through in substantially the same form as asked by the governors of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

Completion of the dream freeway was expected also to trigger a boom in the economies of Northern Kentucky and Southeast Indiana as well as the entire greater Cincinnati area.

The idea of a circle freeway goes back more than a decade amid the complaints of Cincinnati residents that they were shortchanged on good connecting roads.

Southern Local TB Test Action Clarified

Robert Skinner, president of the Southern Local Board of Education, said today the board did not pass a resolution requesting teachers to take the Heaf tuberculin test as originally reported.

The test will be available at the first county teachers meeting Sept. 4 at Beaver Local School, but Southern Local teachers do not have to take it if they do not want to, Skinner said.

He said a motion was made to adopt a resolution requesting the teachers to do so, but it died for lack of a second.

The act of perspiring prevents the body temperature from becoming too high. The perspiration evaporates, which cools off our bodies, because of the large amount of heat which is always absorbed when water changes from liquid into a gas.

$300 Damages Set In Rear-End Crash

Midland and West Union, W.Va., cars were involved in a rear-end collision on Route 66, a mile south of Chester, Wednesday afternoon at 4:15, causing total damage of $300.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said a 1959 model sedan driven by Pete Benedict, 22, of 1140 Virginia Ave., Midland, struck the rear of a 1962 model sedan driven by Orval T. Ferebee, 44, of West Union (Doddridge County).

Benedict told deputies he was unable to halt in time to avoid striking the rear of Ferebee's car that had stopped in the southbound lane of traffic.

Deputies estimated $200 damage to the left front of Benedict's car, and $100 to the rear of the other.

Senate Sets Sept. 17 As Constitution Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate adopted by voice vote Thursday a resolution which would make Sept. 17 each year a legal holiday to be known as Constitution Day.

Next Sept. 17 will be the 175th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution.

The resolution now goes to the House.

Work Slated For Addition

EAST PALESTINE — The congregation of the First Church of Christ has approved a proposal for construction of a $110,000 addition to the church at N. Market and W. Martin Sts.

Work is to commence following a ground-breaking ceremony Sunday, Sept. 2.

Contracts have already been let, with Floyd Cox of East Liverpool awarded the general construction. Others went to the Dickey Electrical Co. of North Lima and the Salem Plumbing & Heating Co.

The 45-x-90-foot addition will serve primarily as an educational area. The sanctuary will remain in the present structure.

James Dodds is chairman of the building committee. The Rev. Dan Davis is minister.

24 Newell Pupils In Kindergarten

Newell's kindergarten classes will open Sept. 5 with almost double the enrollment of last year, Mrs. James Waggle of Chester, instructor, reported.

Twenty - four youngsters have been enrolled for the classes Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a. m. at the Newell American Legion home. There were 13 pupils last year.

Twenty - one mothers of prospective kindergarten pupils attended an organization meeting Wednesday night at the post home. Mrs. Vera Nease and Mrs. Helen Doane, first grade teachers at Newel Jefferson School, spoke. Mrs. Waggle outlined the program.

Tuition for the kindergarten, starting its third year in Newell, is $3 per week for each youngster.

Cincinnati Gets White House Nod On Freeway Plan

CINCINNATI (AP)—The White House has assured greater Cincinnati it will get all of the planned Circle Freeway—including a small slice through Southwest Indiana.

The announcement Thursday indicated the 24.2 miles needed to complete the big freeway had been given the green light by President Kennedy.

This meant that the 77-mile circle thoroughfare, expected to cost upwards of $155 million, will go through in substantially the same form as asked by the governors of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

Completion of the dream freeway was expected also to trigger a boom in the economies of Northern Kentucky and Southeast Indiana as well as the entire greater Cincinnati area.

The idea of a circle freeway goes back more than a decade amid the complaints of Cincinnati residents that they were shortchanged on good connecting roads.

Elephants Stampede

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Driven by floods in Assam state from their usual haunts, a herd of frightened wild elephants stampeded through a village in the Tezpur District this week. They killed four persons, injured another and destroyed 49 huts.

Convicted Killer Of Detective Dies In Electric Chair

CHICAGO (AP) — Tight-lipped and appearing calm. James Dukes, convicted killer of a Chicago detective, died in the electric chair in the Cook County Jail today.

"He was scared," said Warden Jack Johnson, "but he took it real good."

Dukes, 37, whose attorneys made desperate last-minute attempts to stay the execution for the 1956 slaying, walked 40 feet from his isolation cell to the death chamber. A Catholic jail chaplain and eight guards walked alongside him. They said he did not speak as he walked to the chair.

Dukes, a Negro, was twice convicted for the slaying on Jun 16, 1956, of detective John Blyth in a gun battle on the South Side. His first conviction was set aside by the Illinois Supreme Court but he was convicted in a second trial in 1958. He had received several stays of execution in lengthy court appeals.

Blyth was slain as he attempted to arrest Dukes for shooting two men who had sought to aid a woman Dukes was beating.

Stolen City Cars Found By Police

Two autos reported stolen in East Liverpool Thursday have been recovered, police reported today.

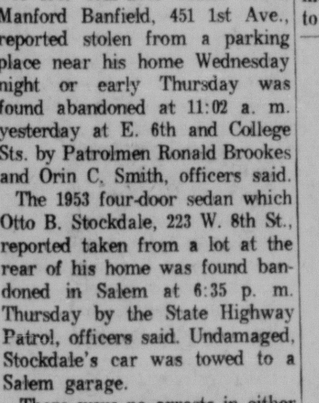

A 1949 four-door sedan which Manford Banfield, 451 1st Ave., reported stolen from a parking place near his home Wednesday night or early Thursday was found abandoned at 11:02 a. m. yesterday at E. 6th and College Sts. by Patrolmen Ronald Brookes and Orin C. Smith, officers said.

The 1953 four-door sedan which Otto B. Stockdale, 223 W. 8th St., reported taken from a lot at the rear of his home was found bandoned in Salem at 6:35 p. m. Thursday by the State Highway Patrol, officers said. Undamaged, Stockdale's car was towed to a Salem garage.

There were no arrests in either case, police said.

The seven properties of all matter are weight, inertia, porosity, divisibility, indestructibility, extension, and magnitude.

MRS. J. R. BURKE
Bride In Calvary Rites.

Miss Mary Suzanne Jennings carried a 2½-dollar gold piece, the gift of her mother, when she became the bride of Jan Robert Burke Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Calvary Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jennings, 1101 Avondale St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burke of Lee St.

The Rev. Irwin E. Jennings, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony. William Richards, church organist, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of gold brocade, fashioned with a matching jacket, and a pillbox hat trimmed with a flutter veil.

She carried a white Bible, topped with an arrangement of yellow roses, centered with a white orchid. It was a graduation gift from the church Session. Observing the traditions, she borrowed a sixpence from Chalmer Nicholson Jr.

Miss Cheryl Lynn Tucker was maid of honor and wore a jade green sheath with white accessories. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white and shrimp color carnations.

Charles R. Burke Jr. served as his brother's best man. Joseph Burke, another brother, was best man.

The mother of the bride chose a suit of horizon blue with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a poudre blue dress with pink accessories.

A reception for 75 followed at the home of the bride's parents. The buffet table was centered with a two-tier cake decorated with pink rosebuds. Arrangements of gladiolus and mums were used throughout the home. Miss Sue Smith presided at the guest register.

Aides were Mrs. Laura Mae Smith and Mrs. Thelma Thomas, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Martha Burgess and Mrs. Dorothy White, her cousins.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of East Liverpool High School. Her husband, also a graduate, is associate director of the YMCA.

The newlyweds are residing temporarily with the bride's parents.

Optimisim, Pessimism Exist In Redstone Arsenal Strike

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Optimism and pessimism existed today as to the possibility of a 10-day-old strike being completely halted at Redstone Arsenal.

A Marshall Space Flight Center spokesman said "We're certainly optimistic about our chances of being back at full force, or near it."

He said electricians who reported back to their jobs Thursday "are effective in our efforts to resume operation."

About a third—38—of the normal roster of electricians reported Thursday, but seven of those left one of the projects later.

About 125 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers — were told Thursday night to go back to work.

But the man who said he told them, James Haygood, business agent for the local, said later he doubted all members would heed his instructions.

Haygood said about 125 of the 210-member local attended a meeting at which he told them to go back to work, read a back-to-work order from U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood and read another back-to-the-job directive from Gordon Freeman, president of IBEW.

The strike began Aug. 14 when 150 electricians established picket lines at three arsenal gates, protesting use of non-union workers by Baroco Electrical Construction Co. of Pensacola, Fla.

More than 1,200 members of other trades unions honored the lines, with a freeze on several construction projects vital to the nation's moonshot program resulting.

Boy Shot Accidentally By Companion Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 10-year-old boy shot accidentally by a companion died in Columbus Children's Hospital early today.

Richard Carter, 10, of Newark was shot Thursday on a farm north of Newark when his 11-year-old friend dropped a .22-caliber rifle he was carrying, sheriff's deputies said. The gun discharged and struck young Carter below the right temple.

Urbana School To Be Full 4-Year College

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—An old but little known junior college here will become a full four-year college next fall, its president has announced.

The school, Urbana Junior College, founded in 1850, has an enrollment of 110. President Ralph Gauvey, however, said this is expected to be doubled next year and the faculty expanded from 15 to 32.

The trustees of the school voted to appropriate $250,000 as the first step in the transition. The money will be used primarily for constructing a science building, a fieldhouse.

About 125 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers — were told Thursday night to go back to work.

But the man who said he told them, James Haygood, business agent for the local, said later he doubted all members would heed his instructions.

Haygood said about 125 of the 210-member local attended a meeting at which he told them to go back to work, read a back-to-work order from U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood and read another back-to-the-job directive from Gordon Freeman, president of IBEW.

The strike began Aug. 14 when 150 electricians established picket lines at three arsenal gates, protesting use of non-union workers by Baroco Electrical Construction Co. of Pensacola, Fla.

More than 1,200 members of other trades unions honored the lines, with a freeze on several construction projects vital to the nation's moonshot program resulting.

Urbana School To Be Full 4-Year College

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—An old but little known junior college here will become a full four-year college next fall, its president has announced.

The school, Urbana Junior College, founded in 1850, has an enrollment of 110. President Ralph Gauvey, however, said this is expected to be doubled next year and the faculty expanded from 15 to 32.

The trustees of the school voted to appropriate $250,000 as the first step in the transition. The money will be used primarily for constructing a science building, a fieldhouse.

A Report From Niles . . .

What will the East Liverpool Potters have to face when the Niles High Dragons, 1961 Ohio football champs, invade Patterson Field the night of Sept. 8?

Tony Mason, successful head coach of the Buckeye kingpins, can answer that better than anyone.

He has this to say about his 1962 team. "I believe this squad will reach its potential quicker than any I have had at Niles, but it isn't by a long shot as good as last year's team."

All in all, Niles isn't as heavy up front or in the backfield as in 1961.

Niles lost 18 gridders from the championship squad, with eight lettermen back for another fling.

There's one very good reason why Mason won't call his present squad as good as last year's team. Niles won't have Rick Sygar, the All-Ohio and All-American back, breaking loose for touchdown springs this season.

Niles began its march to the Ohio title in 1961 by opening up with a 40-0 victory over East Liverpool. In that game Sygar scored 22 points.

Bo Rine Is Big Threat . . .

A FELLOW by the name of Bo Rine has been moved to Sygar's old left halfback spot. Rine played right half last year and did pretty well for himself, scoring 90 points, including 12 touchdowns. He averaged 6.9 yards per carry.

Rine hasn't been practicing much this week since he is playing in a Junior NABF baseball tournament at Louisville, Ky. Rine is an outstanding shortstop.

The regular quarterback from last season, Jim Seiber, is around. He threw 62 times last year and completed 39 for 314 yards and six TD's. Funny thing about Seiber though, on that powerful Niles club he didn't score a point all season.

Up for grabs in the backfield are one halfback slot and the fullback job. Two sophomore speedsters, who are something like the halfbacks Alliance had lost season, are shooting for the opening at halfback.

Pete Toto, a 175-pounder, looks like he may win the fullback job. He was injured most of last season but is ready to go now.

Injuries Crop Up . . .

EVEN championship teams have their troubles with injuries. Mason has been hit rather hard in the first week of practice by injuries to key performers.

Jim Berline, a junior halfback who was slated for a defensive backfield spot, sustained a serious ankle sprain and will be wearing a cast up to his knee for two or three weeks.

Dick Murray, a sophomore backfield prospect, suffered a broken ankle and is out for the season.

First team tackle Ken Ramsey, a 215-pounder, has torn ligaments in both arches and has just started working out and Joe Pezzano, the first team center, worked out for the first time Wednesday. During the summer he suffered a shoulder injury in a fall.

THE NILES football schedule shows some formidable opponents with the likes of Youngstown Cardinal Mooney, the top team in that city last year, Steubenville Central and Alliance.

After East Liverpool, Niles meets Cleveland Cathedral Latin. The Dragons won't be doing much traveling this season, with East Liverpool and Alliance the only away games. And those are the first and last tilts on the schedule. Niles plays seven straight at home.

—:—

Big Red And Alliance . . .

REPORTS on two other powerhouses which the Potters face this season read something like this:

STEUBENVILLE BIG RED — Shows greater depth in the backfield than at any other time in recent years and has a line that will be strong at the tackle positions but inexperienced at ends and center.

Big Red lost 24 lettermen from a squad which only dropped three games, to Massillon, Alliance and Martins Ferry. Six lettermen return this year.

The bread and butter man of the Steubenville squad is captain Harry Wilson, who was an all-stater last year as a junior.

Anchoring the line will be big Ron Mazzaferro, a 230 - pound tackle, who, according to Coach Ray Hoyman, has the potential of becoming another athlete of the caliber of Calvin Jones, a standout at Big Red in the early 1950's who went on to be named to the All-American squad while performing with the University of Iowa.

—:—

ALLIANCE — The Aviators appear to be down somewhat this season, but with magician Mel Knowlton at the controls Alliance should be well represented on the gridiron.

Alliance lost a host of material from last season, including All-Ohio Glenn Hill, and has only five lettermen returning.

One of the veterans is Larry Grimes, a 160-pound fullback who was the second leading ground gainer on the 1961 outfit. Only one other back returns. He is Chester Bryant, a 175-pound speedster, who was fourth in the ground gaining department last season.

Spirit Running High In ELHS Camp

Bob Hedmond is starting his second season as head coach of the East Liverpool Potters and after one week of drills at Patterson Field it appears he is off to a much better beginning than at this time a year ago.

"The spirit and attitude of the boys is much improved," Hedmond said.

"They show a lot of hustle and they like contact and hit hard. Sometimes we have to call them off.

"I feel we have 22 hard-nosed football players, while there are many others who are inexperienced but who show signs of developing in the near future."

Ninety-one boys showed up the first day and the squad is down to 78 now.

"Many of the 22 boys I have in mind are profiting from the many mistakes made last season," Hedmond added.

At present he has been working with two units he feels are very equal and all starting jobs are up for grabs.

The two backfields list Chuck Baker, the regular quarterback from last season, at one signal-calling post; Tom Kraft and Bob Mercer at the halfback spots, and Len Oliver at Fullback. All are seniors except Mercer who is a junior.

The Review Sports
FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1962 PAGE 10

In the other backfield is Bob Forzano, a junior, at quarterback. Forzano is really in his first varsity season, since he suffered a collarbone injury last year and missed most of the season. With this unit are halfbacks Earl Olmstead, John DiPasquale and Bob Bowyer and fullback Dick Heddleston.

Bowyer has been alterating at fullback and one of the halfback slots.

Hedmond was well pleased with an hour-long scrimmage Wednesday night, the first all-out contact work so far. He praised the work of both units.

Hedmond will have a chance to get a clearer picture Saturday when he sends the Potters against Louisville in a scrimmage session scheduled to start at 10 a. m.

900 Tickets Placed On Sale For Niles Opener Sept. 8

East Liverpool High School placed 900 tickets on sale today at Reese's Jewelers on E. 5th St. for the opening football game with Niles on Saturday, Sept. 8. The tickets are located in Sections 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Merrill Hall, athletic director, said the tickets should be picked up right away since there is a great demand from Niles for tickets. Tickets will remain on sale here until Aug. 31.

Hall also added that a few season tickets remained and anyone wishing to purchase a season ticket could write to the high school or contact Hall by phone.

Those persons who ordered season tickets but have not picked them up should do so immediately, Hall reminded.

Giants Nip Mets, Remain 3½ Back

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Roseboro's first hit in 29 at-bats. Ernie Bowman's first major league homer and game-winning single. Six-hit pitching by three castoffs. A varied assortment that kept the status quo in the three-team struggle for the National League pennant.

Roseboro, hitless in 28 trips to the plate, lashed a triple that propelled the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers to a four-run eighth inning uprising and a 4-2 victory over Philadlephia Thursday night after the leaders had been shut out on four hits by Dennis Bennett.

Bowman, rookie second baseman substituting for Chuck Hiller, tagged his first home run in the fifth inning, then stroked a single in the 10th inning that scored Johnny Orsino with the clincher as the second-place San Francisco Giants edged the New York Mets, 2-1.

The castoffs — Joe Nuxhall, Johnny Klippstein and Ted Wills —combined to six-hit Chicago while Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman each homered and drove in four runs, carrying the third-place Cincinnati Reds to a 14-3 walloping of the Cubs.

The Dodgers remain 3½ games in front of the Giants and four lengths ahead of the defending champion Reds, who made it 16 victories in the last 19 games. It was the fourth triumph in 12 games for the Dodgers and the Giants' second in eight.

Fourth-place Pittsburgh used a two-run homer by Bill Virdon and the four-hit hurling of Vern Law to beat Houston 4-0, and Milwaukee tied St. Louis for fifth place by edging the Cardinals 3-2.

Pinson and Coleman paced a 21-hit attack with three hits and four RBI each, Pinson hitting his 20th homer and Coleman getting No. 26. Nuxhall started for the Reds, but pulled a thigh muscle and had to leave after pitching two-hit ball for four innings. Klippstein and Wills, who like Nuxhall last pitched in the American League, finished up.

Law (10-6), posting his fifth triumph and second shutout over the Colts, allowed only singles—one in each of the first four innings. He also scored twice, coming in on Virdon's homer in the htird and scoring on Dick Groat's single in the eighth.

The Braves overcame a 2-1 Cardinal lead in the eighth on an infield hit by Frank Bolling, Roy McMillan's double, a wild pitch by loser Ernie Broglio and an infield out. Claude Raymond, getting his 10th save in 20 relief appearances, preserved the triumph for Bob Hendley (9-10).

Angels Top Yankees In 13th, 5-4

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels, who have used many and varied devices in their American League pennant chase, now have resorted to the use of T 'n' T.

The Thomas boys, Lee and George, sometimes known around the city of Angels as the T 'n' T combination, collaborated in producing a 13th inning run Thursday that saved at least some semblence of an American League race.

Lee, who had singled, rode home on George's double for the run that beat the New York Yankees 5-4. It allowed the Angels to salvage the last of a key, three-game series and escape only one game further back than when they started.

They're now five behind and still within shooting distance of the perennial American League champs.

Minnesota lost two to Washington, 6-4 and 6-0, dropped from second place to third, and went six full games off the pace. The first game of the twi-night doubleheader was a replay of Wednesday's 8-8 10-inning tie.

Detroit, behind the hefty hitting of Al Kaline and Norm Cash, beat Cleveland 8-5 while Boston had little trouble taking Kansas City 8-2 in the only other games played. Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

Ken Retzer and relief pitcher Bennie Daniels were the first-game heroes for Washington in the Senators' sweep over Minnesota. Retzer provided the winning blow with a two-run sixth inning homer that broke a 4-4 tie.

Daniels, who took over in the fifth, retired 14 men in order before walking Earl Battey with two out in the ninth. Bob Allison's three-run homer in the first had given the Twins an early lead.

In the nightcap, lefty Don Rudolph (7-6) stopped the Twins on six hits, retiring the last 14 men in order. He got the backing of a 13-hit attack, which included back-to-back homers by Bob Johnson and Chuck Hinton.

Kaline stroked two homers, a double and a single while Cash drove in three runs on his 33rd homer and a single to make it easy for the Tigers against the Indians. Hank Aguirre coasted in to his 12th victory.

Boston's Gene Conley (12-11) had a four-hitter going into the ninth at Kansas City, but was touched for a single and Gino Cimoli's homer, spoiling his shutout. He was supported by a 13-hit attack, which included Eddie Bressoud's two-run eighth inning homer.

Liston Feels He Can KO Floyd In Sept. 25 Bout

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — "If the fight is close they can give it to Patterson. It won't be close. I don't think he will run from me—any champion should come out fighting. I don't think he will get up once I hit him right."

It was Sonny Liston talking. He had just finished a one-hour workout in the steaming heat of his outside gym at the Aurora Downs Race Track.

He drew applause from 60 paying customers when his chief trainer, Willie Reddish, threw a 12-pound medicine ball into his stomach a dozen times. They also liked the way Liston caved in the big 80-pound bag with lefts and rights as Reddish held it and chanted: "Come on. Come on. Come on."

Taking movies of the workout for a television show was a company from San Diego presided over by Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame football coach who is on the scene with Father Edward Patrick McDaniel Murphy of Denver, Liston's personal advisor.

After three playings of a rock-n' roll record, as Sonny kept time while skipping rope, the workout was about over.

He showered and faced newsmen in the air-cooled clubhouse. Before him was a cup of hot tea with a slice of lemon in it, and four teaspoons of sugar.

Liston meets heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in a 15-round title fight at Comiskey Park Sept. 25.

Hopeful Set At Saratoga

By The Associated Press

The 58th running of the Hopeful Stakes, which has produced many champion 2-year-old colts, will feature the windup of the month-long Saratoga season Saturday with the Greentree Stable looking for another title contender.

Catullus, an undefeated Greentree colt who has won the Juvenile at Aqueduct and the Flash at Saratoga, is the probable favorite in a field of seven or eight expected for the 6½ furlong Hopeful.

The Hopeful is a $75,000-added affair, and if eight start the purse will gross $114,550. Catullus may have a running mate, Outing Class shooting for the winner's purse of approximately $75,000.

The chief rival is expected to be Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, who won the Tremont Stakes and has been knocking at the door in half a dozen others.

Greentree has won the Hopeful once, with Devil Diver in 1941, and it helped set up the 1952 Kentucky Derby drama. The Greentree entry of Devil Diver and Shut Out was the odds-on choice, and Eddie Arcaro picked Devil Diver as his Derby mount. Wayne Wright won it on Shut Out.

Weekly Tennis Clinic Postponed This Week

The weekly tennis clinic staged each Saturday at Thompson Park will not be this week because local netters will be participating in a tournament at East Palestine.

Entered in the East Palestine event which opens tonight are Joe Leigh, Gary Liebschner, Tom Fannin, Laurin Stacey and Bob Risinger Sr.

Art Turner was eliminated 6-4 and 6-2 by Rennie Goldburg of Youngstown in the Junior division at Youngstown Thursday.

Jackie Pung Leads In Ladies PGA Open

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Jackie Pung, a 41-year-old veteran professional from Honolulu, shot a four-under-par 70 Thursday for the first round lead in the $12,500 Salt Lake City Ladies Professional Golf Association open.

Mrs. Pung, who stands 5-5 and weighs 190 pounds, held a two-stroke lead over Betty Jameson of Pebble Beach, Calif., and Kathy Cornelius of Scottsdale, Ariz., both with 72s.

The University of Texas holds a football series edge over all seven Southwestern Conference opponents.

A Report From Niles . . .

What will the East Liverpool Potters have to face when the Niles High Dragons, 1961 Ohio football champs, invade Patterson Field the night of Sept. 8?

Tony Mason, successful head coach of the Buckeye kingpins, can answer that better than anyone.

He has this to say about his 1962 team. "I believe this squad will reach its potential quicker than any I have had at Niles, but it isn't by a long shot as good as last year's team."

All in all, Niles isn't as heavy up front or in the backfield as in 1961.

Niles lost 18 gridders from the championship squad, with eight lettermen back for another fling.

There's one very good reason why Mason won't call his present squad as good as last year's team. Niles won't have Rick Sygar, the All-Ohio and All-American back, breaking loose for touchdown springs this season.

Niles began its march to the Ohio title in 1961 by opening up with a 40-0 victory over East Liverpool. In that game Sygar scored 22 points.

Bo Rine Is Big Threat . . .

A FELLOW by the name of Bo Rine has been moved to Sygar's old left halfback spot. Rine played right half last year and did pretty well for himself, scoring 90 points, including 12 touchdowns. He averaged 6.9 yards per carry.

Rine hasn't been practicing much this week since he is playing in a Junior NABF baseball tournament at Louisville, Ky. Rine is an outstanding shortstop.

The regular quarterback from last season, Jim Seiber, is around. He threw 62 times last year and completed 39 for 314 yards and six TD's. Funny thing about Seiber though, on that powerful Niles club he didn't score a point all season.

Up for grabs in the backfield are one halfback slot and the fullback job. Two sophomore speedsters, who are something like the halfbacks Alliance had lost season, are shooting for the opening at halfback.

Pete Toto, a 175-pounder, looks like he may win the fullback job. He was injured most of last season but is ready to go now.

Injuries Crop Up . . .

EVEN championship teams have their troubles with injuries. Mason has been hit rather hard in the first week of practice by injuries to key performers.

Jim Berline, a junior halfback who was slated for a defensive backfield spot, sustained a serious ankle sprain and will be wearing a cast up to his knee for two or three weeks.

Dick Murray, a sophomore backfield prospect, suffered a broken ankle and is out for the season.

First team tackle Ken Ramsey, a 215-pounder, has torn ligaments in both arches and has just started working out and Joe Pezzano, the first team center, worked out for the first time Wednesday. During the summer he suffered a shoulder injury in a fall.

THE NILES football schedule shows some formidable opponents with the likes of Youngstown Cardinal Mooney, the top team in that city last year, Steubenville Central and Alliance.

After East Liverpool, Niles meets Cleveland Cathedral Latin. The Dragons won't be doing much traveling this season, with East Liverpool and Alliance the only away games. And those are the first and last tilts on the schedule. Niles plays seven straight at home.

—:—

Big Red And Alliance . . .

REPORTS on two other powerhouses which the Potters face this season read something like this:

STEUBENVILLE BIG RED — Shows greater depth in the backfield than at any other time in recent years and has a line that will be strong at the tackle positions but inexperienced at ends and center.

Big Red lost 24 lettermen from a squad which only dropped three games, to Massillon, Alliance and Martins Ferry. Six lettermen return this year.

The bread and butter man of the Steubenville squad is captain Harry Wilson, who was an all-stater last year as a junior.

Anchoring the line will be big Ron Mazzaferro, a 230 - pound tackle, who, according to Coach Ray Hoyman, has the potential of becoming another athlete of the caliber of Calvin Jones, a standout at Big Red in the early 1950's who went on to be named to the All-American squad while performing with the University of Iowa.

—:—

ALLIANCE — The Aviators appear to be down somewhat this season, but with magician Mel Knowlton at the controls Alliance should be well represented on the gridiron.

Alliance lost a host of material from last season, including All-Ohio Glenn Hill, and has only five lettermen returning.

One of the veterans is Larry Grimes, a 160-pound fullback who was the second leading ground gainer on the 1961 outfit. Only one other back returns. He is Chester Bryant, a 175-pound speedster, who was fourth in the ground gaining department last season.

Spirit Running High In ELHS Camp

Bob Hedmond is starting his second season as head coach of the East Liverpool Potters and after one week of drills at Patterson Field it appears he is off to a much better beginning than at this time a year ago.

"The spirit and attitude of the boys is much improved," Hedmond said.

"They show a lot of hustle and they like contact and hit hard. Sometimes we have to call them off.

"I feel we have 22 hard-nosed football players, while there are many others who are inexperienced but who show signs of developing in the near future."

Ninety-one boys showed up the first day and the squad is down to 78 now.

"Many of the 22 boys I have in mind are profiting from the many mistakes made last season," Hedmond added.

At present he has been working with two units he feels are very equal and all starting jobs are up for grabs.

The two backfields list Chuck Baker, the regular quarterback from last season, at one signal-calling post; Tom Kraft and Bob Mercer at the halfback spots, and Len Oliver at Fullback. All are seniors except Mercer who is a junior.

The Review Sports

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1962 PAGE 10

In the other backfield is Bob Forzano, a junior, at quarterback. Forzano is really in his first varsity season, since he suffered a collarbone injury last year and missed most of the season. With this unit are halfbacks Earl Olmstead, John DiPasquale and Bob Bowyer and fullback Dick Heddleston.

Bowyer has been alterating at fullback and one of the halfback slots.

Hedmond was well pleased with an hour-long scrimmage Wednesday night, the first all-out contact work so far. He praised the work of both units.

Hedmond will have a chance to get a clearer picture Saturday when he sends the Potters against Louisville in a scrimmage session scheduled to start at 10 a. m.

900 Tickets Placed On Sale For Niles Opener Sept. 8

East Liverpool High School placed 900 tickets on sale today at Reese's Jewelers on E. 5th St. for the opening football game with Niles on Saturday, Sept. 8. The tickets are located in Sections 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Merrill Hall, athletic director, said the tickets should be picked up right away since there is a great demand from Niles for tickets. Tickets will remain on sale here until Aug. 31.

Hall also added that a few season tickets remained and anyone wishing to purchase a season ticket could write to the high school or contact Hall by phone.

Those persons who ordered season tickets but have not picked them up should do so immediately, Hall reminded.

Giants Nip Mets, Remain 3½ Back

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Roseboro's first hit in 29 at-bats. Ernie Bowman's first major league homer and game-winning single. Six-hit pitching by three castoffs. A varied assortment that kept the status quo in the three-team struggle for the National League pennant.

Roseboro, hitless in 28 trips to the plate, lashed a triple that propelled the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers to a four-run eighth inning uprising and a 4-2 victory over Philadlephia Thursday night after the leaders had been shut out on four hits by Dennis Bennett.

Bowman, rookie second baseman substituting for Chuck Hiller, tagged his first home run in the fifth inning, then stroked a single in the 10th inning that scored Johnny Orsino with the clincher as the second-place San Francisco Giants edged the New York Mets, 2-1.

The castoffs — Joe Nuxhall, Johnny Klippstein and Ted Wills —combined to six-hit Chicago while Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman each homered and drove in four runs, carrying the third-place Cincinnati Reds to a 14-3 walloping of the Cubs.

The Dodgers remain 3½ games in front of the Giants and four lengths ahead of the defending champion Reds, who made it 16 victories in the last 19 games. It was the fourth triumph in 12 games for the Dodgers and the Giants' second in eight.

Fourth-place Pittsburgh used a two-run homer by Bill Virdon and the four-hit hurling of Vern Law to beat Houston 4-0, and Milwaukee tied St. Louis for fifth place by edging the Cardinals 3-2.

Pinson and Coleman paced a 21-hit attack with three hits and four RBI each, Pinson hitting his 20th homer and Coleman getting No. 26. Nuxhall started for the Reds, but pulled a thigh muscle and had to leave after pitching two-hit ball for four innings. Klippstein and Wills, who like Nuxhall last pitched in the American League, finished up.

Law (10-6), posting his fifth triumph and second shutout over the Colts, allowed only singles—one in each of the first four innings. He also scored twice, coming in on Virdon's homer in the htird and scoring on Dick Groat's single in the eighth.

The Braves overcame a 2-1 Cardinal lead in the eighth on an infield hit by Frank Bolling, Roy McMillan's double, a wild pitch by loser Ernie Broglio and an infield out. Claude Raymond, getting his 10th save in 20 relief appearances, preserved the triumph for Bob Hendley (9-10).

Angels Top Yankees In 13th, 5-4

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Angels, who have used many and varied devices in their American League pennant chase, now have resorted to the use of T 'n' T.

The Thomas boys, Lee and George, sometimes known around the city of Angels as the T 'n' T combination, collaborated in producing a 13th inning run Thursday that saved at least some semblance of an American League race.

Lee, who had singled, rode home on George's double for the run that beat the New York Yankees 5-4. It allowed the Angels to salvage the last of a key, three-game series and escape only one game further back than when they started.

They're now five behind and still within shooting distance of the perennial American League champs.

Minnesota lost two to Washington, 6-4 and 6-0, dropped from second place to third, and went six full games off the pace. The first game of the twi-night doubleheader was a replay of Wednesday's 8-8 10-inning tie.

Detroit, behind the hefty hitting of Al Kaline and Norm Cash, beat Cleveland 8-5 while Boston had little trouble taking Kansas City 8-2 in the only other games played. Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

Ken Retzer and relief pitcher Bennie Daniels were the first-game heroes for Washington in the Senators' sweep over Minnesota. Retzer provided the winning blow with a two-run sixth inning homer that broke a 4-4 tie.

Daniels, who took over in the fifth, retired 14 men in order before walking Earl Battey with two out in the ninth. Bob Allison's three-run homer in the first had given the Twins an early lead.

In the nightcap, lefty Don Rudolph (7-6) stopped the Twins on six hits, retiring the last 14 men in order. He got the backing of a 13-hit attack, which included back-to-back homers by Bob Johnson and Chuck Hinton.

Kaline stroked two homers, a double and a single while Cash drove in three runs on his 33rd homer and a single to make it easy for the Tigers against the Indians. Hank Aguirre coasted in to his 12th victory.

Boston's Gene Conley (12-11) had a four-hitter going into the ninth at Kansas City, but was touched for a single and Gino Cimoli's homer, spoiling his shutout. He was supported by a 13-hit attack, which included Eddie Bressoud's two-run eighth inning homer.

Liston Feels He Can KO Floyd In Sept. 25 Bout

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — "If the fight is close they can give it to Patterson. It won't be close. I don't think he will run from me—any champion should come out fighting. I don't think he will get up once I hit him right."

It was Sonny Liston talking. He had just finished a one-hour workout in the steaming heat of his outside gym at the Aurora Downs Race Track.

He drew applause from 60 paying customers when his chief trainer, Willie Reddish, threw a 12-pound medicine ball into his stomach a dozen times. They also liked the way Liston caved in the big 80-pound bag with lefts and rights as Reddish held it and chanted: "Come on. Come on. Come on."

Taking movies of the workout for a television show was a company from San Diego presided over by Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame football coach who is on the scene with Father Edward Patrick McDaniel Murphy of Denver, Liston's personal advisor.

After three playings of a rock-n' roll record, as Sonny kept time while skipping rope, the workout was about over.

He showered and faced newsmen in the air-cooled clubhouse. Before him was a cup of hot tea with a slice of lemon in it, and four teaspoons of sugar.

Liston meets heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in a 15-round title fight at Comiskey Park Sept. 25.

Hopeful Set At Saratoga

By The Associated Press

The 58th running of the Hopeful Stakes, which has produced many champion 2-year-old colts, will feature the windup of the month-long Saratoga season Saturday with the Greentree Stable looking for another title contender.

Catullus, an undefeated Greentree colt who has won the Juvenile at Aqueduct and the Flash at Saratoga, is the probable favorite in a field of seven or eight expected for the 6½ furlong Hopeful.

The Hopeful is a $75,000-added affair, and if eight start the purse will gross $114,559. Catullus may have a running mate, Outing Class shooting for the winner's purse of approximately $75,000.

The chief rival is expected to be Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, who won the Tremont Stakes and has been knocking at the door in half a dozen others.

Greentree has won the Hopeful once, with Devil Diver in 1941, and it helped set up the 1952 Kentucky Derby drama. The Greentree entry of Devil Diver and Shut Out was the odds-on choice, and Eddie Arcaro picked Devil Diver as his Derby mount. Wayne Wright won it on Shut Out.

Kuzio Has All-Veteran Backfield At N. Cumberland

Enthusiasm Runs High At Raiders Camp

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Enthusiasm is running high around the New Cumberland High athletic field where the Blue Raiders are going through their paces preparatory to the opening of the 1962 football campaign.

The most enthusiastic person there is head Coach John Kuzio, who guided New Cumberland to one of its finest seasons a year ago when the Blue Raiders were among the top teams in the district with a 7-2-1 record.

The only blemishes on the Blue Raider card were against Northwestern and Jefferson Union.

KUZIO has reason to be optimistic as he starts his third season because the starting backfield from a year ago has returned for another campaign.

The New Cumberland mentor will put his backfield up against any. "These boys are fast and they have improved their speed. Our opponents will know we have four good backs," Kuzio said.

"While we can only dream about matching the 1961 record, our biggest problem this year will be inexperienced lineman."

Kuzio pointed out that nine lettermen are back. Four are backfield men, while the other five are linemen. But not all five are offensive linemen.

One of the big guns in the backfield who is looking for a great season is Allen Katzenmeyer, a 150-pound senior, who was named to the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference first team in 1961.

—:—

KATZENMEYER led the Raiders in scoring last season with 72 points, but Kuzio points out that the three other backs were close to this mark to form a balanced scoring attack.

At halfbacks Kuzio has Jim Burskey, a 155-pound senior, and Ed Wudarsky, a 145-pound junior. Both speedsters gained second team honors on the OVAC squad.

Allan Pettit, a 165-pound junior, who flashed good form as a sophomore, will be at fullback.

Listed in the starting unit on the forward wall is Ken Freshwater, a 160-pound senior letter winner, who is considered one of the top terminals in the area. His running mate at the other end spot will be Bob Burskey, a 135-pound junior.

—:—

TACKLES show letterman Bill Manley, a 185-pound junior, back for another season and Tom McGowan, 185-pound junior. Manley was converted from an end to a tackle this season.

Fred Bradley, 150-pound junior, and James Luke, 170-pound senior, will fill the guard spots, while a battle goes on daily for the center post between Gary Fidler, a 145-pound senior, and a sophomore hopeful Bill Spencer, who weighed in at 185.

Kuzio pointed out that this year he has more reserve power and he may be able to come up with a whole new lineup on defense. So far the defensive unit has been responding well.

The group includes Bob Hawkins, 165-pound junior; Charles Long, 160 - pound junior; Mel Reese, 165-pound senior; Bill Macek, 160-pound senior; Tom McKitrick, 150-pound junior; Joe Ghenne, 145-pound senior, and four promising sophomores, Tim Stover, Terry Staley, Tom Andrews and Buzz Shepherd.

THIRTY-NINE gridders make up the squad and Kuzio reports the spirit is running high even when the Raiders practice in the heat of the day. "This team is in top physical condition now."

From the 39, eight are seniors, 11 juniors, 14 sophomores and six freshmen.

New Cumberland lost seven boys through graduation. Six were linemen and the other a reserve back. They were Gary Nardo, George Myers, Ed Baldwin, John Patterson, James Bradley, Dave Ross and Larry Powell.

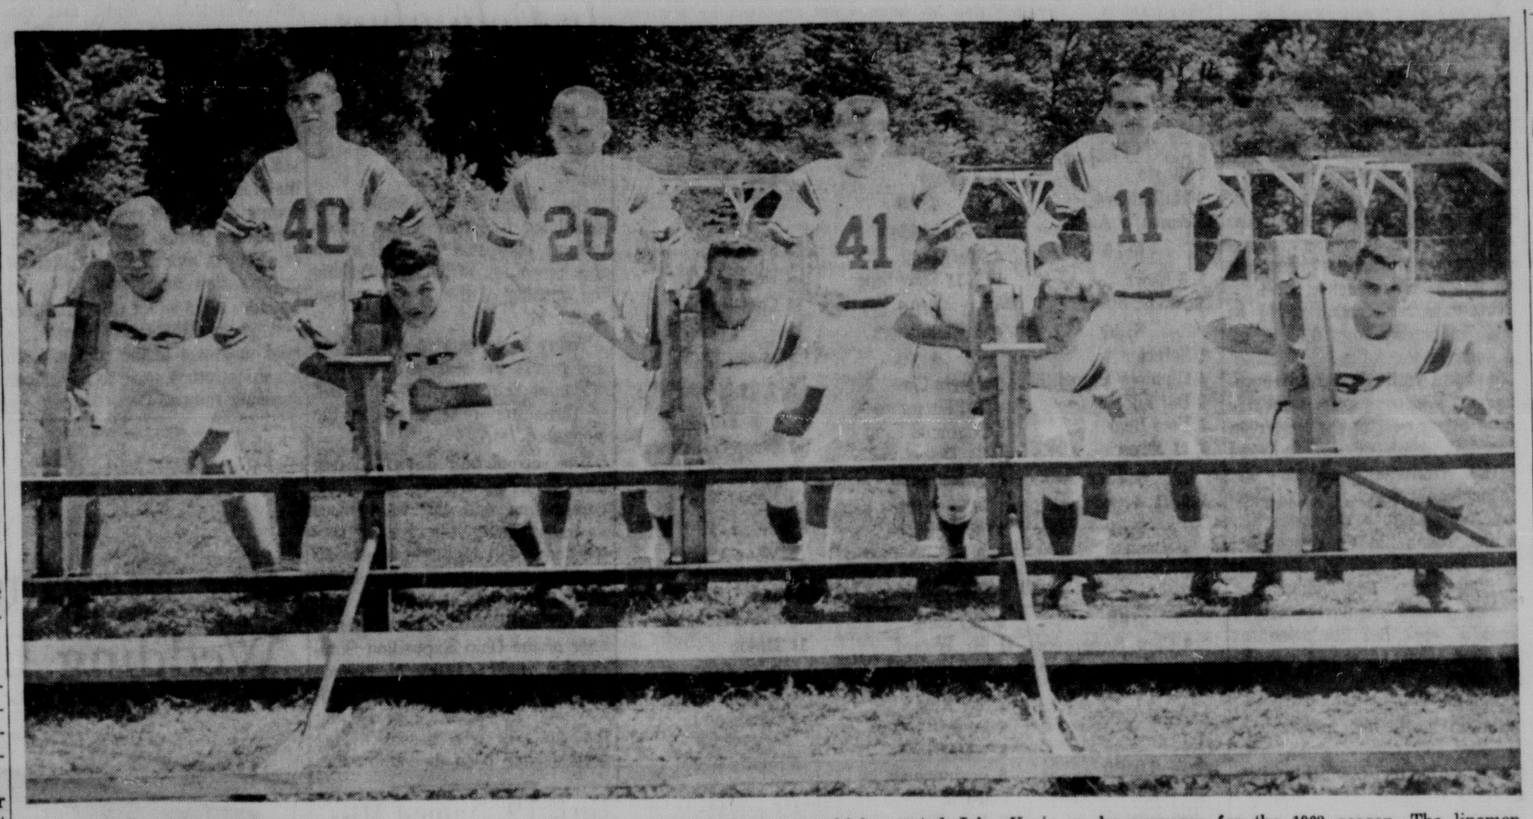

Assisting John again this year is his brother Steve Kuzio, also in his third season.

The 1962 schedule remains the same as a year ago. The opener is with Northwestern at New Cumberland on Sept. 7. Northwestern was one of two teams to defeat the Raiders in 1961 by a 6-0 score.

The 1962 schedule follows:

Sept.	7	Northwestern, home
Sept.	15	Brilliant, away (2:30)
Sept.	21	Madonna, home
Sept.	28	Cameron, away
Oct.	5	St. Anthony, home
Oct.	12	Newell, home
Oct.	18	South Side, away
Oct.	26	Mt. Pleasant, away
Nov.	2	Jefferson Union, home
Nov.	9	Chester, away

Pittsburgh won the National League pennant by 27½ games over second place Brooklyn in 1902, the biggest margin in major league history.

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland and San Francisco, bridesmaids in the National Football League for more years than their coaches like to remember, test each other's newly found strength this weekend as the National and American Leagues have another hefty program of exhibition activity.

The Browns, titleless since 1957, and 49ers, who have never won a title, have won their two exhibition starts.

The 49ers scored a 30-24 victory over Minnesota, then routed the injury-riddled New York Giants 42-10.

The Browns edged tough Detroit 17-14, then ground out a 33-10 victory over Pittsburgh. Jim Ninowski, the Browns' new quarterback, has shown such amazing adeptness at running coach Paul Brown's offense that The Master has even let him call his own plays at times.

AFL weekend activity begins tonight in Fort Worth, Tex., when the revamped Denver Broncos play the Dallas Texans. Denver (0-2) will test new quarterbacks Hunter Enis and Richie Lucas, and may have veteran Frank Tripuka back after a layoff with a broken rib.

The Texans, 2-1 in pre-season play, plan to start rookie Eddie Wilson of Arizona, who is making threatening gestures at veteran Cotton Davidson's job.

Saturday night in the NFL, Green Bay (3-1) plays the Chicago Bears (0-2) in Milwaukee; the Giants (0-1-1) play the Rams (2-0) at Los Angeles; The Baltimore Colts (2-0) take on Dallas (0-2) in Roanoke, Va.; Washington (2-0) faces Philadelphia (1-1) in Charlotte, N.C.; and the St. Louis Cards (0-1-1) and Minnesota Vikings (0-2) play in Minneapolis-St. Paul. Detroit and Pittsburgh play Monday night in Detroit, and in the AFL San Diego is at Oakland Sunday afternoon.

Thursday night the Buffalo Bills halted Houston's 16-game winning streak, 21-14, in an AFL exhibition before 17,257 at Mobile, Ala. The Bills intercepted five Jack Lee passes in the first half before unleashing their own air attack. Warren Rabb threw two TD passes to Glen Bass to lead the Bill attack.

Team Concerns Willie Not Individual Honors

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays, the major leagues' home run leader with 38, hasn't added to his total in the San Francisco Giants' last five games but he couldn't care less.

What does concern Willie is his team's inability to take advantage of the opportunities afforded it by the recent slump of the league leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

"When we get the hitting, we don't get the pitching," said Mays before Thursday's game with the New York Mets. "That's the way it's been since we started on this road trip."

The Giants went out and got strong pitching from Juan Marichal and some timely hitting from an unexpected source to overcome the Mets 2-1 in 10 innings, snapping a three-game losing streak.

Both Giant runs were driven in by substitute second baseman Ernie Bowman, who homered in the fifth, then singled home the winning run in the 10th. Bowman was a last minute replacement for Charlie Hiller.

Mays got only one hit, a wasted single, but he was content. The Giants won and he sparkled in center field with a couple of fine running catches.

"Believe me," he said, "I'm not interested in leading the league in home runs. Oh, it's all right to be a champion at anything but I'm not interested in home runs. I can honestly say I never purposely tried to hit a home run in my life. In fact, I know if I tried for one, I'd probably pop it up. I just try to swing and if I hit the ball into the stands, okay."

Beaver Falls Legion Nine Receives Ban

ALLENTOWN — Beaver Falls was suspended from all American Legion State baseball play for two years Thursday after two of the team's players jumped an umpire following a 3-2 loss to Lansdale in the state tournament.

Lansdale, which scored its winning run in the sixth after Beaver pitcher Trippy Blythe balked, meets the winner of today's Pittsburgh Shadyside - West Lawn game on Saturday.

Shadyside defeated West Lawn, 8-4.

The Beaver Falls rhubarb started in the eighth after Plate Umpire Steve Martinec refused to let a batter take base after being hit by a pitch. He said the batter made no attempt to duck. In the ninth inning, Beaver Falls again disputed a call, when its runner was called out at first even though the team said the first baseman failed to touch the bag.

After the game two unidentified players jumped Martinec. The action brought both teams swarming onto the field.

Werner Talks On Exercise

The benefit of exercise for persons of all ages was emphasized by Carl A. Werner, general secretary of the YMCA, in his talk on "Physical Fitness" at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

He discussed the training of youngsters and said the lack of physical prowess in many youth is because of modern transportation. He said "the youths want to ride in an auto every place they go."

Werner also demonstrated various exercises for the members, cautioning them they should not select too strenuous a program at the beginning.

Thirty-one attended. Merrill Hall, first vice president, presided in the absence of Paul Blair, president.

Ira A. Burbick was program chairman. Alvin Arner will be program chairman next week.

Crackup Kills Race Drivers

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Veteran race driver Shorty Templeman and Jim Hemmings, of North Vernon, Ind., were killed Thursday night in a seven-car crackup in the 15-lap feature of the United States Auto Club Midget races here.

Templeman died in Marion General Hospital and Hemmings lived only a few minutes after the crash, a physician at the Marion County Fairgrounds track said.

Track officials reported Templeman lost control of the car on the second lap and went end-over-end several times. The other cars rammed into the wreckage and one landed on Hemmings, who was thrown from his racer.

Templeman, a veteran of a number of "500" races, was hurt earlier this summer in a race at Grand Rapids, Mich. Until a few weeks ago, he had been in an Indianapolis hospital and only recently returned to midget competition. He was 11th in this year's Memorial Day Classic.

Hemmings passed his driver's test at Indianapolis this year, but didn't compete. He had been active in sprint car and big car competition.

Hemmings and Templeman were the fifth and sixth USAC drivers killed this year, and the first to die in midgets.

Templeman raced in the Memorial Day Classic five times and finished 11th in the running of the annual 500-mile event last May 30. His best finish was fourth in 1961.

His home was Seattle. He was married and had four children, Tommy, 18, David, 13, Laurie, 12, and Bonnie, 11.

Templeman had been racing for 17 years, his first being in a midget event in Bremerton, Wash., in 1957.

Hemmings was 27, married, and had one son, Jack, 12. He had 12 years' racing experience, his first being a stock car event at Columbus, Ind.

An Alarming Sight

MEAFORD, Ont. (AP) — A small raccoon wandering into this Owen Sound district community caused a lot of excitement. One woman reported the animal was covered in blood. A policeman investigated and found an irate painter who said the raccoon had knocked over a can of red paint.

Boy Tells Truth In Car Theft, Gets 2-Year Probation

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 19-year-old East Side youth is at home today instead of in a reformatory because he decided to tell the truth after he was sentenced in an automobile theft case.

John E. Johnson was put on probation for two years by Common Pleas Court Judge J.J.P. Corrigan, who said he was impressed by the youth's change of story.

Sentencing Johnson to from 1-20 years in the Ohio reformatory at Mansfield Tuesday, the judge called the youth's story to probation officers silly. Johnson had pleaded guilty, but claimed a stranger had given him the car to drive "for a couple of hours" and that he was unsuccessful when he tried to find the owner.

Later Tuesday, while waiting transfer from County Jail to Mansfield, Johnson sent a letter to Richard J. McManus, chief county probation officer, saying that he had lied and admitting that he had taken a car which had the ignition key in it.

Judge Corrigan, told of the youth's change in his story, called Johnson before the bench Wednesday and placed him on probation.

Killed In Collision

Big Prize Up For Grabs In Trapshooting

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Trap shooting offers its No. 1 masterpiece today — the 63rd Grand American Handicap.

Some 2,400 of the Western Hemisphere's most talent gun pointers will go after the sport's most coveted prize, which usually is won by some unknown from nowhere. The victor could take home as much as $7,000.

A preview of the classic was held Thursday as a field of 2,009 fired in the preliminary handicap over the 100-target route. The preliminary went to David S. Bryner, a 54-year-old took and die worker in a Milford, Mich., auto plant.

Bryner, tied by three others—including the first woman ever to break 99 in the handicap—made two mistakes.

One error was missing his 88th target, forcing him into the deadlock. The other was his failure to play the purse, an oversight which cost him about $1,500. Of the money loss, Bryner's wife Maxine said, "I'll never let him forget it."

Harold E. Myers, former Columbus, Ohio, resident who tied in 1953 for the Grand American Handicap but lost in a shoot-off, finished second in Thursday's four-way extra heat. He also forfeited a flock of money by not playing the optionals under which each wagers on his own prowess.

Mrs. Mathias (Annette) Schimenz of Milwaukee finished last in the shoot-off with Willis Anderson of Bluffton, Ohio, taking third.

Cub Scout Pack Gives Skit On Western Theme At Park

A western theme featured the program of Cub Scout Pack 31 of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church Wednesday evening at Thompson with dens presenting skits. Don Hoyt is cubmaster.

Den 2, with Mrs. Gerry Lutton, den mother, presented the first skit.

Boys from Den 6, of which Mrs. Marty Badgley is den mother, were attired in western outfits and explained the use of the cowboy clothing and performed several tricks.

A cowboy and Indian skit was presented by Den 8, of which Mrs. Helen Bourne is den mother. Mrs. Charlene Goddard, chairman of the den mothers, assisted the other den mothers with the skits.

The program concluded with the cubs gathering around a fire and singing Western songs.

Hoyt, aided by Jim Arcuragi, assistant cubmaster, and Fred Crawford, advancement chairman, presented awards.

Jerry Badgley received the lion badge; Keith Clark, bear, and Raymond Chapman, gold and silver arrow under wolf. "Go-round-up" patches were presented Jerry Badgley, Terry Hoyt, Stanley Strub, Don Barnes and Mike Rolley, for enrolling new cubs.

Bobcat pins were presented to Paul Davis, Larry Armstrong and Jan Nicholson, new cubs.

Games were played under the supervision of Mrs. Bourne and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Audrey Hoyt was in charge of the women's games and Mrs. Paul Davis won the prize.

The meeting opened with the flag ceremony by Den 6 and Lord's Prayer led by Den 2.

A wiener roast followed.

Next meeting is Sept. 26 at 7 p. m. at the church.

Now She's 'Mother' Of Flock Of Quail

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP) — Anne James found 11 quail eggs on a recent rock-hunting expedition and brought them back to her home in this Mother Lode town.

She put the eggs in a moist cloth and placed them in an electric frying pan turned down to the lowest temperature. For the next seven days, she carefully turned the eggs.

It wasn't a new recipe. The eggs eventually hatched and Anne was the unofficial mother of a flock of live and healthy baby quail.

London was the first city in world history to attain a population of a million.

Kuzio Has All-Veteran Backfield At N. Cumberland

Enthusiasm Runs High At Raiders Camp

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Enthusiasm is running high around the New Cumberland High athletic field where the Blue Raiders are going through their paces preparatory to the opening of the 1962 football campaign.

The most enthusiastic person there is head Coach John Kuzio, who guided New Cumberland to one of its finest seasons a year ago when the Blue Raiders were among the top teams in the district with a 7-2-1 record.

The only blemishes on the Blue Raider card were against Northwestern and Jefferson Union.

KUZIO has reason to be optimistic as he starts his third season because the starting backfield from a year ago has returned for another campaign.

The New Cumberland mentor will put his backfield up against any. "These boys are fast and they have improved their speed. Our opponents will know we have four good backs," Kuzio said.

"While we can only dream about matching the 1961 record, our biggest problem this year will be inexperienced lineman."

Kuzio pointed out that nine lettermen are back. Four are backfield men, while the other five are linemen. But not all five are offensive linemen.

One of the big guns in the backfield who is looking for a great season is Allen Katzenmeyer, a 150-pound senior, who was named to the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference first team in 1961.

—:—

KATZENMEYER led the Raiders in scoring last season with 72 points, but Kuzio points out that the three other backs were close to this mark to form a balanced scoring attack.

At halfbacks Kuzio has Jim Burskey, a 155-pound senior, and Ed Wudarsky, a 145-pound junior. Both speedsters gained second team honors on the OVAC squad.

Allan Pettit, a 165-pound junior, who flashed good form as a sophomore, will be at fullback.

Listed in the starting unit on the forward wall is Ken Freshwater, a 160-pound senior letter winner, who is considered one of the top terminals in the area. His running mate at the other end spot will be Bob Burskey, a 135-pound junior.

—:—

TACKLES show letterman Bill Manley, a 185-pound junior, back for another season and Tom McGowan, 185-pound junior. Manley was converted from an end to a tackle this season.

Fred Bradley, 150-pound junior, and James Luke, 170-pound senior, will fill the guard spots, while a battle goes on daily for the center post between Gary Fidler, a 145-pound senior, and a sophomore hopeful Bill Spencer, who weighed in at 185.

Kuzio pointed out that this year he has more reserve power and he may be able to come up with a whole new lineup on defense. So far the defensive unit has been responding well.

The group includes Bob Hawkins, 165-pound junior; Charles Long, 160 - pound junior; Mel Reese, 165-pound senior; Bill Macek, 160-pound senior; Tom McKitrick, 150-pound junior; Joe Ghenne, 145-pound senior, and four promising sophomores, Tim Stover, Terry Staley, Tom Andrews and Buzz Shepherd.

THIRTY-NINE gridders make up the squad and Kuzio reports the spirit is running high even when the Raiders practice in the heat of the day. "This team is in top physical condition now."

From the 39, eight are seniors, 11 juniors, 14 sophomores and six freshmen.

New Cumberland lost seven boys through graduation. Six were linemen and the other a reserve back. They were Gary Nardo, George Myers, Ed Baldwin, John Patterson, James Bradley, Dave Ross and Larry Powell.

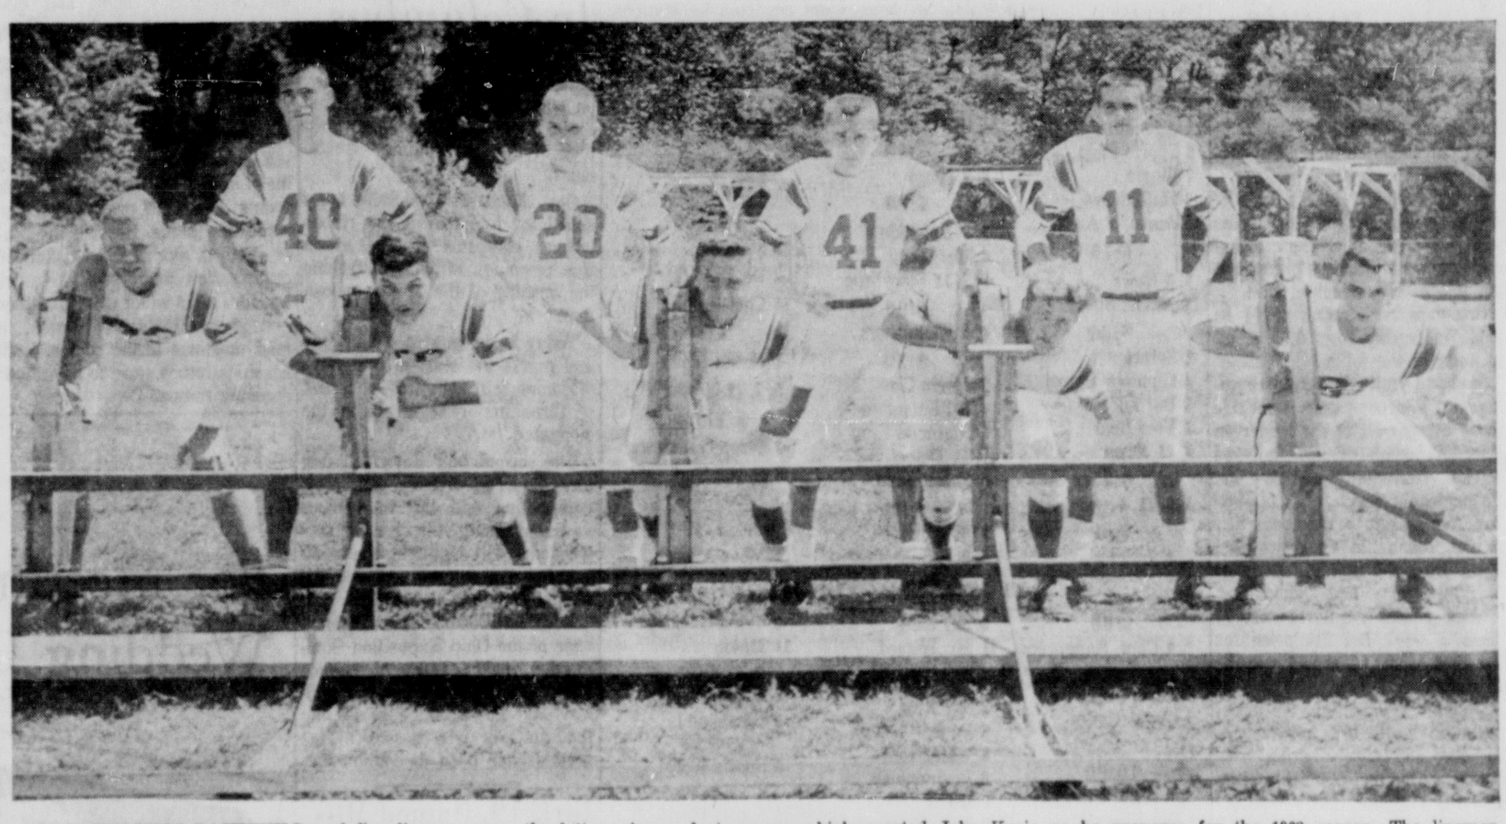

Assisting John again this year is his brother Steve Kuzio, also in his third season.

The 1962 schedule remains the same as a year ago. The opener is with Northwestern at New Cumberland on Sept. 7. Northwestern was one of two teams to defeat the Raiders in 1961 by a 6-0 score.

The 1962 schedule follows:

Sept.	7	Northwestern, home
Sept.	15	Brilliant, away (2:30)
Sept.	21	Madonna, home
Sept.	28	Cameron, away
Oct.	5	St. Anthony, home
Oct.	12	Newell, home
Oct.	18	South Side, away
Oct.	26	Mt. Pleasant, away
Nov.	2	Jefferson Union, home
Nov.	9	Chester, away

Pittsburgh won the National League pennant by 27½ games over second place Brooklyn in 1902, the biggest margin in major league history.

LAST SEASON'S BACKFIELD and five linemen were the letter winners last season which greeted John Kuzio as he prepares for the 1962 season. The linemen shown taking a crack at the blocking sled are left-to-right—Bill Manley, Mel Reese, Fred Bradley, Tom Andrews and Ken Freshwater. The New Cumberland backfield standing behind the forward wall includes Jim Burskey, Allen Pettit, Ed Wudarsky and Allen Katzenmeyer.

Unbeaten Browns To Battle 49ers

By JACK CLARY

Cleveland and San Francisco, bridesmaids in the National Football League for more years than their coaches like to remember, test each other's newly found strength this weekend as the National and American Leagues have another hefty program of exhibition activity.

The Browns, titleless since 1957, and 49ers, who have never won a title, have won their two exhibition starts.

The 49ers scored a 30-24 victory over Minnesota, then routed the injury-riddled New York Giants 42-10.

AFL weekend activity begins tonight in Fort Worth, Tex., when the revamped Denver Broncos play the Dallas Texans. Denver (0-2) will test new quarterbacks Hunter Enis and Richie Lucas, and may have veteran Frank Tripuka back after a layoff with a broken rib.

The Texans, 2-1 in pre-season play, plan to start rookie Eddie Wilson of Arizona, who is making threatening gestures at veteran Cotton Davidson's job.

Saturday night in the NFL, Green Bay (3-1) plays the Chicago Bears (0-2) in Milwaukee; the Giants (0-1-1) play the Rams (2-0) at Los Angeles; The Baltimore Colts (2-0) take on Dallas (0-2) in Roanoke, Va.; Washington (2-0) faces Philadelphia (1-1) in Charlotte, N.C.; and the St. Louis Cards (0-1-1) and Minnesota Vikings (0-2) play in Minneapolis-St. Paul. Detroit and Pittsburgh play Monday night in Detroit, and in the AFL San Diego is at Oakland Sunday afternoon.

Thursday night the Buffalo Bills halted Houston's 16-game winning streak, 21-14, in an AFL exhibition before 17,257 at Mobile, Ala. The Bills intercepted five Jack Lee passes in the first half before unleashing their own air attack. Warren Rabb threw two TD passes to Glen Bass to lead the Bill attack.

Beaver Falls Legion Nine Receives Ban

ALLENTOWN — Beaver Falls was suspended from all American Legion State baseball play for two years Thursday after two of the team's players jumped an umpire following a 3-2 loss to Lansdale in the state tournament.

Lansdale, which scored its winning run in the sixth after Beaver pitcher Trippy Blythe balked, meets the winner of today's Pittsburgh Shadyside - West Lawn game on Saturday.

Shadyside defeated West Lawn, 8-4.

The Beaver Falls rhubarb started in the eighth after Plate Umpire Steve Martinec refused to let a batter take base after being hit by a pitch. He said the batter made no attempt to duck. In the ninth inning, Beaver Falls again disputed a call, when its runner was called out at first even though the team said the first baseman failed to touch the bag.

Crackup Kills Race Drivers

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Veteran race driver Shorty Templeman and Jim Hemmings, of North Vernon, Ind., were killed Thursday night in a seven-car crackup in the 15-lap feature of the United States Auto Club Midget races here.

Templeman died in Marion General Hospital and Hemmings lived only a few minutes after the crash, a physician at the Marion County Fairgrounds track said.

Track officials reported Templeman lost control of the car on the second lap and went end-over-end several times. The other cars rammed into the wreckage and one landed on Hemmings, who was thrown from his racer.

Templeman, a veteran of a number of "500" races, was hurt earlier this summer in a race at Grand Rapids, Mich. Until a few weeks ago, he had been in an Indianapolis hospital and only recently returned to midget competition. He was 11th in this year's Memorial Day Classic.

Hemmings passed his driver's test at Indianapolis this year, but didn't compete. He had been active in sprint car and big car competition.

Hemmings and Templeman were the fifth and sixth USAC drivers killed this year, and the first to die in midgets.

Templeman raced in the Memorial Day Classic five times and finished 11th in the running of the annual 500-mile event last May 30. His best finish was fourth in 1961.

His home was Seattle. He was married and had four children, Tommy, 18, David, 13, Laurie, 12, and Bonnie, 11.

Templeman had been racing for 17 years, his first being in a midget event in Bremerton, Wash., in 1957.

Hemmings was 27, married, and had one son, Jack, 12. He had 12 years' racing experience, his first being a stock car event at Columbus, Ind.

An Alarming Sight

MEAFORD, Ont. (AP) — A small raccoon wandering into this Owen Sound district community caused a lot of excitement. One woman reported the animal was covered in blood. A policeman investigated and found an irate painter who said the raccoon had knocked over a can of red paint.

Boy Tells Truth In Car Theft, Gets 2-Year Probation

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 19-year-old East Side youth is at home today instead of in a reformatory because he decided to tell the truth after he was sentenced in an automobile theft case.

John E. Johnson was put on probation for two years by Common Pleas Court Judge J.J.P. Corrigan, who said he was impressed by the youth's change of story.

Sentencing Johnson to from 1-20 years in the Ohio reformatory at Mansfield Tuesday, the judge called the youth's story to probation officers silly. Johnson had pleaded guilty, but claimed a stranger had given him the car to drive "for a couple of hours" and that he was unsuccessful when he tried to find the owner.

Later Tuesday, while waiting transfer from County Jail to Mansfield, Johnson sent a letter to Richard J. McManus, chief county probation officer, saying that he had lied and admitting that he had taken a car which had the ignition key in it.

Judge Corrigan, told of the youth's change in his story, called Johnson before the bench Wednesday and placed him on probation.

Killed In Collision

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A Fostoria, Ohio, woman, Mrs. Grace Baird, 60, was killed and her husband, Fred, 67, and four others persons were injured Thursday in a headon automobile collision 15 miles northeast of here.

Big Prize Up For Grabs In Trapshooting

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Trap shooting offers its No. 1 masterpiece today — the 63rd Grand American Handicap.

Some 2,400 of the Western Hemisphere's most talent gun pointers will go after the sport's most coveted prize, which usually is won by some unknown from nowhere. The victor could take home as much as $7,000.

A preview of the classic was held Thursday as a field of 2,009 fired in the preliminary handicap over the 100-target route. The preliminary went to David S. Bryner, a 54-year-old took and die worker in a Milford, Mich., auto plant.

Bryner, tied by three others—including the first woman ever to break 99 in the handicap—made two mistakes.

One error was missing his 88th target, forcing him into the deadlock. The other was his failure to play the purse, an oversight which cost him about $1,500. Of the money loss, Bryner's wife Maxine said, "I'll never let him forget it."

Harold E. Myers, former Columbus, Ohio, resident who tied in 1953 for the Grand American Handicap but lost in a shoot-off, finished second in Thursday's four-way extra heat. He also forfeited a flock of money by not playing the optionals under which each wagers on his own prowess.

Mrs. Mathias (Annette) Schimenz of Milwaukee finished last in the shoot-off with Willis Anderson of Bluffton, Ohio, taking third.

Cub Scout Pack Gives Skit On Western Theme At Park

A western theme featured the program of Cub Scout Pack 31 of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church Wednesday evening at Thompson with dens presenting skits. Don Hoyt is cubmaster.

Den 2, with Mrs. Gerry Lutton, den mother, presented the first skit.

Boys from Den 6, of which Mrs. Marty Badgley is den mother, were attired in western outfits and explained the use of the cowboy clothing and performed several tricks.

A cowboy and Indian skit was presented by Den 8, of which Mrs. Helen Bourne is den mother. Mrs. Charlene Goddard, chairman of the den mothers, assisted the other den mothers with the skits.

The program concluded with the cubs gathering around a fire and singing Western songs.

Hoyt, aided by Jim Arcuragi, assistant cubmaster, and Fred Crawford, advancement chairman, presented awards.

Jerry Badgley received the lion badge; Keith Clark, bear, and Raymond Chapman, gold and silver arrow under wolf. "Go-round-up" patches were presented Jerry Badgley, Terry Hoyt, Stanley Strub, Don Barnes and Mike Rolley, for enrolling new cubs.

Bobcat pins were presented to Paul Davis, Larry Armstrong and Jan Nicholson, new cubs.

Games were played under the supervision of Mrs. Bourne and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Audrey Hoyt was in charge of the women's games and Mrs. Paul Davis won the prize.

The meeting opened with the flag ceremony by Den 6 and Lord's Prayer led by Den 2.

A wiener roast followed.

Next meeting is Sept. 26 at 7 p. m. at the church.

Now She's 'Mother' Of Flock Of Quail

SAN ANDREAS, Calif. (AP) — Anne James found 11 quail eggs on a recent rock-hunting expedition and brought them back to her home in this Mother Lode town.

She put the eggs in a moist cloth and placed them in an electric frying pan turned down to the lowest temperature. For the next seven days, she carefully turned the eggs.

It wasn't a new recipe. The eggs eventually hatched and Anne was the unofficial mother of a flock of live and healthy baby quail.

London was the first city in world history to attain a population of a million.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

In The Age Of Dee-Uh-Tump

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. Joe Barbera is a man who has looked closely into the world of 2062, and he reports that it's not bad at all. We'll all be trim and happy, we'll live to be 125, and we'll be complaining about a three-hour-day, three-day-week work schedule. Mothers on damp mornings will spray a raincoat on their children and say, "Don't forget to peel it off when you get to school." Ashes from your cigarette never will touch the carpet because ash trays will emerge from nowhere (choong!) and then vanish (toing!).

Alan Gill

BARBERA'S nonstop monologues, punctuated with choongs and toings throughout, are the talk of an enthusiast. And why not? He is a natty ex-cartoonist from Brooklyn, who, with an ex-structural engineer from New Mexico named Bill Hanna, created the "Tom and Jerry" cartoons at M-G-M 25 years ago.

Five years ago, they formed Hanna-Barbera Productions and have since come up with such breadwinners as "The Flintstones," "Huckleberry Hound," "Yogi Bear" and "Quick Draw McGraw." Mr. Barbera is doing nicely.

All this futuristic chatter arises from the fact that Hanna-Barbera will unleash a new cartoon series, "The Jetsons," on ABC-TV Sunday nights right after dinner, beginning Sept. 23. In his Hollywood studio office, Joe Barbera is surrounded with the wonders of the world of 2062.

-:-

THE PEOPLE won't be two-headed," he says, flipping out the words like a card shark dealing. "They'll be just like us, talk like us. We've settled on a family of five — George and Jane Jetson, their teen-age girl, Judy, and their eight-year-old boy, Elroy, and their dog, Astro.

"Elroy and Astro have antennae, so they can be summoned right away.

"Their appurtenances are too way-out. We've got them going around in a bubble capsule car, and here the Seattle Fair came up with a Bubbleator. We've got moving sidewalks and now there's a moving walk. We've got 'em living in the Sky Pad Apartments — dwelling units on top of needles—and now Seattle's got a needle.

"THE JETSONS send the kids off to school in a pneumatic tube. When P.S. 85 sends the wrong kid home at 3, Jane Jetson just pushes a button and pffft! the kid's gone and she gets her own back.

"One day Elroy tells her his class is going off on a field trip—they'll be studying the Siberian salt mines. His mother says, 'That's nice. Now don't fight with the little Russian boys.'

"We've got an instant hair-do thing that comes down over Jane's head and, too-choo, she's got a permanent. And a cement mold that builds instant buildings —dee-uh-tump! dee-uh-tump! — floor by floor.

"We've got a vacuum cleaner that comes out, finds the dirt, zupp! eats it up and moves back into the wall. In one story, we've got somebody spilling a drink, the vacuum slurps it up and gets cockeyed.

-:-

"JUDY WINS a date with a pop singer, named Jet Screamer and they go off to the Spaceburger to do the 'Solar Swivel.' It's a heck of a song. Howie Morris did it for us. Listen."

It was quite a song all right, and rather ear-splitting.

"Frank Sinatra, we understand, may be interested in doing a recording.

"Oh, yeah, the maid. We've got a maid named Rosie the Robot. She's a bit broken down. She says, 'Yes, ma'am, beep-beep.' You could say she's a Hazel out-Hazeling a Hazel.

"One company is doing Rosie now as a remote-control toy. In fact, the toy outfits are moving in like frantic."

Mr. Barbera was still going on about a robot football game, a cookout on the moon, a Peek-a-Boo Prober Pill which gives an instant physical examination, and a visit to the showcase of Molecular Motors, when I slipped away for a thirst quencher and found a bunch of robots standing around the Hanna-Barbera water cooler having a break.

East Junior High To Post Assignments

Clarence G. Means, principal, announced that homeroom assignments for East Junior High School students will be posted at the front entrance to the building beginning Monday.

Students should obtain their homeroom assignment prior to the opening of school on Sept. 5 and assignments will not be given over the phone, the principal said.

Bus pass registration will be held Wednesday from 9:30 a. m. to noon in the lobby.

Students entitled to free morning and afternoon passes include those living west of the Patterson Foundry, south of the Railroad tracks; from 810 or below on Pennsylvania Ave.; south of Harvey Ave., east to Elizabeth St.; in the Dixonville or Beechwood area; from 870 and up on Price St. Valley Ave. and Oakland.

Noon passes regularly cost 75 cents a week but the price for the first week of school will be 45 cents.

Students living within the transportation limits may purchase a morning and afternoon bus pass or a noon bus pass, which will be sold when registration is held.

Those desiring to ride must register and if they are unable to attend, a friend or relative may register for them. However no phone registrations will be accepted, Means said.

Reuther Says Strong Union Answer To Teacher Trouble

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P Reuther says American school teachers should become union members to secure fair play for themselves and help the nation.

The United Auto Workers president exhorted an American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention Thursday night to bring "a million" teachers into the union.

A "strong teachers union," he said, is the only answer to teacher problems of pay and working conditions.

Reuther charged the American people have failed to do right by their teachers and said the nation must correct this in order to meet Soviet Russia's challenge.

Of teacher pay, Reuhter said "American society has no moral right to expect teachers to subsidize the national and state school budgets" by going without proper salaries.

He said education must not be kept a stepchild, and said the organizing of teachers should be given top priority by the labor movement.

The 70,000-member AFT scheduled concluding sessions of its convention today.

The 750 rank and file delegates overturned a decision of their union leadership and refused to go to Miami Beach, Fla., for the 1963 convention.

Jobs Seen Spurned Because Of Salaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Many jobs in the greater Cleveland area which offer a good opportunity for advancement are being spurned because of starting salaries, Ward A. Riley, area director of the Ohio State Employment Service, says.

He reported that 2,457 jobs are available in the professional and managerial, clerical and sales, industrial and service fields.

Jobs going begging include 515 in the professional and managerial field and 1,009 in the clerical and sales field. There are 831 jobs available for women.

Swim Show Set

Longest Ohio Fair Opens In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The gates swung open at 6 a.m. today on what will be the longest Ohio State Fair in the 107-year history of the late summer spectacular.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was scheduled to perform the ribbon cutting chores a little later in the morning, officially marking the opening of the 11-day exposition.

Today is designated Youth Day and marks the start of four days of junior fair activities—the first of three major segments in the elongated fair.

The second four days will feature the open division classes of competition and the final three days, spanning the Labor Day weekend, will highlight the western horse show and science exhibits. The fair closes Sept. 3.

Rowland Bishop, general manager of the Ohio Exposition Commission, said games of chance have been barred from the midway and the practice of issuing thousands of free passes to the grounds has been discontinued.

Girl, 19, Named Miss Concrete Pavement

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Sally Williams, 19, of Rushsylvania has been named "Miss Concrete Pavement" and will reign Saturday at the rededication of the oldest concrete street in the United States. The section of street in the downtown district here was poured 71 years ago.

Miss Williams is a sophomore at Bowling Green State University where she is studying music. She was selected from a field of seven.

The first international airmail was registered March 3, 1919, when a pouch of mail was flown from Seattle, Wash., across the Canadian boundary to Vancouver.

Park Group Airs Use Of 2 Rooms

The Chester Park Commission met Wednesday night and discussed plans for the use of two rooms at the Community Building at Chester City Park as a meeting place for various clubs and organizations.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said the Lions Club has one of the rooms as a club project now for a meeting place. He said the other room is available to a club or organization as a project to fix up for a meeting place. Other groups would also be allowed to hold meetings in the rooms. Both spacious rooms were to have been dressing rooms.

The commission met at the Community Building and will meet next on Sept. 5.

Guards, Reservists Call-Up Held Remote In Berlin Crisis

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writr

WASHINGTON (AP)—Current prospects are remote that another call-up of National Guardsmen and reservists might result from a new Berlin crisis, short of a serious, shooting outbreak.

Army sources, asked about this today, said the Regular Army is in far better shape to cope with requirements in Europe or elsewhere than it was a year ago.

The Regular Army has five more combat-ready divisions than when the tension over Berlin last year resulted in the government's decision to summon reserve forces for active duty in this country. About 119,000 Army reservists and National Guardsmen were called up and now have been released.

Organizational strength of the Regular Army is 16 divisions. This includes two new divisions and three former training divisions which have been converted to combat outfits since last year.

Eight of the 16 divisions are ready in the continental United States. One is stationed in Hawaii, with one battle group deployed in Thailand. Five divisions are in Europe and one in Korea.

If a worsening of the situation arising out of the new Communist pressures on Berlin should bring a decision to bulwark ground force strength in West Germany, the first of such reinforcements could be landed there within 24 hours of a buildup decision.

As of now, military leaders see nothing that requires any deployment of forces. But plans, detailed down to the smallest item, are ready for an emergency in Europe or elsewhere.

County Sales Taxes Show Sharp Increase

Columbiana County's prepaid tax receipts and advance payments, plus vendor's sales taxes, almost doubled during the week ending last Saturday, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson at Columbus.

The figures show $30,850.58 for the week, compared with $16,848.26 for the corresponding week in 1961. The collections from July 1 to date total $143,938.88, compared with $134,598.36 for the same period last year.

The figures also show sales and use tax on motor vehicles and casual motor vehicles or house trailers totaled $9,033.23 for the week ending last Saturday, compared with $9,427.45 for the same week in 1961. The collections from July 1 to date total $82,731.49, up from the $69,709.82 for the same period last year.

Litterbugs 'Murder' Seeku, Baby Walrus

NEW YORK (AP)—Seeku the baby walrus is dead. And, aquarium officials say, it's a case of careless murder by litterbugs.

When Seeku was flown to the New York Aquarium a year ago last May, he weighed less than 150 pounds. At his demise Thursday he was an apparently robust 750 pounds.

An examination of the walrus' stomach disclosed a nickel, two pennies, a piece of plastic spoon, cigarette wrappers, tin foil and ice cream sticks.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.

Joe Barbera is a man who has looked closely into the world of 2062, and he reports that it's not bad at all. We'll all be trim and happy, we'll live to be 125, and we'll be complaining about a three-hour-day, three-day-week work schedule. Mothers on damp mornings will spray a raincoat on their children and say, "Don't forget to peel it off when you get to school." Ashes from your cigarette never will touch the carpet because ash trays will emerge from nowhere (choong!) and then vanish (toing!).

Alan Gill

BARBERA'S nonstop monologues, punctuated with choongs and toings throughout, are the talk of an enthusiast. And why not? He is a natty ex-cartoonist from Brooklyn, who, with an ex-structural engineer from New Mexico named Bill Hanna, created the "Tom and Jerry" cartoons at M-G-M 25 years ago.

Five years ago, they formed Hanna-Barbera Productions and have since come up with such breadwinners as "The Flintstones," "Huckleberry Hound," "Yogi Bear" and "Quick Draw McGraw." Mr. Barbera is doing nicely.

All this futuristic chatter arises from the fact that Hanna-Barbera will unleash a new cartoon series, "The Jetsons," on ABC-TV Sunday nights right after dinner, beginning Sept. 23. In his Hollywood studio office, Joe Barbera is surrounded with the wonders of the world of 2062.

THE PEOPLE won't be two-headed," he says, flipping out the words like a card shark dealing. "They'll be just like us, talk like us. We've settled on a family of five — George and Jane Jetson, their teen-age girl, Judy, and their eight-year-old boy, Elroy, and their dog, Astro.

"Elroy and Astro have antennae, so they can be summoned right away.

"Their appurtenances are too way-out. We've got them going around in a bubble capsule car, and here the Seattle Fair came up with a Bubbleator. We've got moving sidewalks and now there's a moving walk. We've got 'em living in the Sky Pad Apartments — dwelling units on top of needles — and now Seattle's got a needle.

"THE JETSONS send the kids off to school in a pneumatic tube. When P.S. 85 sends the wrong kid home at 3, Jane Jetson just pushes a button and pffft! the kid's gone and she gets her own back.

"One day Elroy tells her his class is going off on a field trip — they'll be studying the Siberian salt mines. His mother says, 'That's nice. Now don't fight with the little Russian boys.'

"We've got an instant hair-do thing that comes down over Jane's head and, too-choo, she's got a permanent. And a cement mold that builds instant buildings — dee-uh-tump! dee-uh-tump! dee-uh-tump! — floor by floor.

"We've got a vacuum cleaner that comes out, finds the dirt, zupp! eats it up and moves back into the wall. In one story, we've got somebody spilling a drink, the vacuum slurps it up and gets cockeyed.

"JUDY WINS a date with a pop singer, named Jet Screamer and they go off to the Spaceburger to do the 'Solar Swivel.' It's a heck of a song. Howie Morris did it for us. Listen."

It was quite a song all right, and rather ear-splitting.

"Frank Sinatra, we understand, may be interested in doing a recording.

"Oh, yeah, the maid. We've got a maid named Rosie the Robot. She's a bit broken down. She says, 'Yes, ma'am, beep-beep.' You could say she's a Hazel out-Hazeling a Hazel.

"One company is doing Rosie now as a remote-control toy. In fact, the toy outfits are moving in like frantic."

Mr. Barbera was still going on about a robot football game, a cookout on the moon, a Peek-a-Boo Prober Pill which gives an instant physical examination, and a visit to the showcase of Molecular Motors, when I slipped away for a thirst quencher and found a bunch of robots standing around the Hanna-Barbera water cooler having a break.

East Junior High To Post Assignments

Clarence G. Means, principal, announced that homeroom assignments for East Junior High School students will be posted at the front entrance to the building beginning Monday.

Students should obtain their homeroom assignment prior to the opening of school on Sept. 5 and assignments will not be given over the phone, the principal said.

Bus pass registration will be held Wednesday from 9:30 a. m. to noon in the lobby.

Students entitled to free morning and afternoon passes include those living west of the Patterson Foundry, south of the Railroad tracks; from 810 or below on Pennsylvania Ave.; south of Harvey Ave., east to Elizabeth St.; in the Dixonville or Beechwood area; from 870 and up on Price St. Valley Ave. and Oakland.

Noon passes regularly cost 75 cents a week but the price for the first week of school will be 45 cents.

Students living within the transportation limits may purchase a morning and afternoon bus pass or a noon bus pass, which will be sold when registration is held.

Those desiring to ride must register and if they are unable to attend, a friend or relative may register for them. However no phone registrations will be accepted, Means said.

Reuther Says Strong Union Answer To Teacher Trouble

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P Reuther says American school teachers should become union members to secure fair play for themselves and help the nation.

The United Auto Workers president exhorted an American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention Thursday night to bring "a million" teachers into the union.

A "strong teachers union," he said, is the only answer to teacher problems of pay and working conditions.

Reuther charged the American people have failed to do right by their teachers and said the nation must correct this in order to meet Soviet Russia's challenge.

Of teacher pay, Reuhter said "American society has no moral right to expect teachers to subsidize the national and state school budgets" by going without proper salaries.

He said education must not be kept a stepchild, and said the organizing of teachers should be given top priority by the labor movement.

The 70,000-member AFT scheduled concluding sessions of its convention today.

The 750 rank and file delegates overturned a decision of their union leadership and refused to go to Miami Beach, Fla., for the 1963 convention.

Jobs Seen Spurned Because Of Salaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Many jobs in the greater Cleveland area which offer a good opportunity for advancement are being spurned because of starting salaries, Ward A. Riley, area director of the Ohio State Employment Service, says.

He reported that 2,457 jobs are available in the professional and managerial, clerical and sales, industrial and service fields.

Jobs going begging include 515 in the professional and managerial field and 1,009 in the clerical and sales field. There are 831 jobs available for women.

Longest Ohio Fair Opens In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The gates swung open at 6 a.m. today on what will be the longest Ohio State Fair in the 107-year history of the late summer spectacular.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was scheduled to perform the ribbon cutting chores a little later in the morning, officially marking the opening of the 11-day exposition.

Today is designated Youth Day and marks the start of four days of junior fair activities—the first of three major segments in the elongated fair.

The second four days will feature the open division classes of competition and the final three days, spanning the Labor Day weekend, will highlight the western horse show and science exhibits. The fair closes Sept. 3.

Rowland Bishop, general manager of the Ohio Exposition Commission, said games of chance have been barred from the midway and the practice of issuing thousands of free passes to the grounds has been discontinued.

Girl, 19, Named Miss Concrete Pavement

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Sally Williams, 19, of Rushsylvania has been named "Miss Concrete Pavement" and will reign Saturday at the rededication of the oldest concrete street in the United States. The section of street in the downtown district here was poured 71 years ago.

Miss Williams is a sophomore at Bowling Green State University where she is studying music. She was selected from a field of seven.

The first international airmail was registered March 3, 1919, when a pouch of mail was flown from Seattle, Wash., across the Canadian boundary to Vancouver.

Park Group Airs Use Of 2 Rooms

The Chester Park Commission met Wednesday night and discussed plans for the use of two rooms at the Community Building at Chester City Park as a meeting place for various clubs and organizations.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said the Lions Club has one of the rooms as a club project now for a meeting place. He said the other room is available to a club or organization as a project to fix up for a meeting place. Other groups would also be allowed to hold meetings in the rooms. Both spacious rooms were to have been dressing rooms.

The commission met at the Community Building and will meet next on Sept. 5.

Guards, Reservists Call-Up Held Remote In Berlin Crisis

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writr

WASHINGTON (AP)—Current prospects are remote that another call-up of National Guardsmen and reservists might result from a new Berlin crisis, short of a serious, shooting outbreak.

Army sources, asked about this today, said the Regular Army is in far better shape to cope with requirements in Europe or elsewhere than it was a year ago.

The Regular Army has five more combat-ready divisions than when the tension over Berlin last year resulted in the government's decision to summon reserve forces for active duty in this country. About 119,000 Army reservists and National Guardsmen were called up and now have been released.

Organizational strength of the Regular Army is 16 divisions. This includes two new divisions and three former training divisions which have been converted to combat outfits since last year.

Eight of the 16 divisions are ready in the continental United States. One is stationed in Hawaii, with one battle group deployed in Thailand. Five divisions are in Europe and one in Korea.

If a worsening of the situation arising out of the new Communist pressures on Berlin should bring a decision to bulwark ground force strength in West Germany, the first of such reinforcements could be landed there within 24 hours of a buildup decision.

As of now, military leaders see nothing that requires any deployment of forces. But plans, detailed down to the smallest item, are ready for an emergency in Europe or elsewhere.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Pros And Cons Given On Bilingualism

In the United States many children live in families where they learn a non-English language before entering school. Bilingualism in our country is centered in the large metropolitan areas, in the rural Middle West, in the five southwestern states and Hawaii. In 1945 two authorities estimated that 25 per cent of the school population in the U. S. was bilingual. In the 1940 census 22,000,000 white persons reported that their home language was not English.

Dr. Garry Meyers

In 1937 New York City was estimated as 60 per cent bilingual. The five southwestern states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and California were reported in 1948 to have 2,000,000 Spanish-speaking people.

—:—

THESE AND other facts were reported in the journal, Elementary English, by J. Vernon Jensen under the title, "Effects of Childhood Bilingualism".

This author also discusses the handicaps to the bilingual children's speech and language development, intellectual and school progress, emotional instability and he notes even social disadvantages. Parents and teachers should study this article.

As you read it you may overlook the many advantages made possible by bilingualism in cultural enrichment to the family and nation. Imagine our nation with no homes in which any language but English was spoken. Consider the wide array of foreign languages, in addition to English, that are learned by different children at home.

Teachers incline to wish that no language but English were ever used in the homes of the children they teach and to encourage the non-English speaking parents to try to speak only English to their school children. Obviously, this procedure would help make the teacher's work easier at school.

BUT WOULD IT really make her a greater educator?

Instead, I believe she would be wiser to encourage her school children to keep alive the non-English language they learned at home and enjoy using it part of the time with their parents.

The teacher should consider how doing so would cultivate happy parent - child relationship and cause the parents to strive harder to learn also with their children to speak and write English better.

Why should a child whose parents, also himself, can speak a foreign language well in addition to English, not be proud that they all can?

When the child begins speech he will make best progress at speaking if he hears only one language till he is three or four years old.

My bulletin "The Young Child's Speech" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Quick Fire Call Credited To Girl

Chief Harry Reckner of the Glenmoor fire deparment today credited a Wyoming Ave. girl with preventing what could have been a spreading grass fire by phoning firemen in time for them to quell the blaze and confine it to less than an acre.

Karen Wynn, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wynn of Wyoming Ave., noticed the flames shooting from deep grass on a tract on Vale St. and ran back into her home and phoned firemen at 1:55 p.m. Thursday.

Eleven men with two trucks, including a tanker, quelled the fire in about an hour and prevented its spread to a heavily wooded area. The property burned over is owned by William Cunningham of Route 170, Calcutta.

Karen, who will be in the eighth grade at Beaver Public School, said a neighborhood boy also saw the flames "but he was scared and ran home."

Chamber At Midland Sees 125 For Picnic

About 125 are expected to attend the family picnic to be held Sunday at 2 p.m. by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

It will be at the summer home of George Cindrich at former Dam 7 at Georgetown. Anthony Martell and Paul McGeehan are co-chairmen.

Martell said there will be children's games beginning at 2:30. Food will be served buffet style between 4 and 4:30. Adult games and contests will follow.

Swimming facilities will be available, Martell said.

Charles R. Schmitt is Chamber president.

Tractor-Trailer Tire Damages Halted Auto

The left rear fender of a halted auto was damaged Thursday afternoon at Jefferson and W. 5th Sts. when struck by the rear tire of a turning tractor-trailer rig, police reported.

The 1959 four - door sedan of Twyla M. Pollock, 30, of Richmond R.D. 1 was bumped by the tire of a 1961 model tractor-trailer operated by Robert J. Woicinski, 40, of Columbus, officers said. The rig was undamaged, officers reported.

The woman driver said she was halted for a traffic signal at the intersection and the tractor-trailer was turning from W. 5th St. onto Jefferson.

Dr. Carrigg Speaks To Lions At Lisbon

LISBON — Dr. John Carrigg of Steubenville discussed "Anti-War Parties In American History" at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday night at the club cottage with Dean Senanefes, president, presiding.

Dr. Carrigg, Republican candidate for 18th District congressman and head of the Department of History at the College of Steubenville was introduced by Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon. Kenneth Everett was program chairman.

During business, the club completed plans for the annual street fair Sept. 27-29.

17% Ahead Of 1961

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Total import - export cargo handled in the port of Toledo is running more than 17 per cent ahead of last year, when it led all Great Lakes ports, says the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority.

The port handled 7,835,970 net tons in 1961, an increase of 1,857,513 net tons over the previous year, the U. S. Corps of Engineers reports. This years's cargo is 73 per cent more than handled by the second-place port, Duluth-Superior, the report showed.

Researchers Cite Cancer In Mice In Cigarette Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — A team of medical researchers says tests have demonstrated tobacco drawn through filter tipped cigarettes contains a tar substance that can cause skin cancers in mice.

The report, published today in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said six brands of cigarettes, including two filter-tip types, were used in the one-year study.

The research was undertaken, they said, to determine if the cancer risk had been eliminated from cigarettes, or reduced by modifications in recent years.

Tumors were induced by every brand of cigarette tested, they said, but the filtered cigarette smoke yielded only one-third the amount of tar in standard cigarette smoke.

There were fewer tumors and a slower onset of tumors among the filtered cigarette group.

Tar yields among standard cigarettes differed by less than 20 per cent, they said.

The experimental procedure consisted of condensing the smoke from machine-smoked cigarettes to obtain the tar, they explained. The tar was dissolved in a solvent, acetone, and applied to the shaved skin of the mouse in amounts equivalent to 8.3 smoked cigarettes a day.

The tobacco industry, however, contends there is no evidence that smoking causes cancer.

Men's Novel Sundial Resembles Basketball

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two Louisville men have come up with a novel sundial that resembles a basketball. Paul Snider and Hearl Jones have applied for a patent.

The device is an eight-inch sphere with two narrow slots exactly opposite each other. The axis points directly north - south and the slots are vertical at that plane. When the sphere is turned so that the sun's rays shine through both slots at the same time, an indicator on the metered face points to the time of day.

We have taken a "Second Look" at Trading Stamps . . . and have decided to give them up!

REASON:

Too costly for Bloor's and Bloor's Customers.

The decision to stop giving trading stamps came after a long, hard study of the pros and cons in having stamps included in our stores' merchandising set-up.

We know that by eliminating trading stamps, we can offer greater savings and better service to the thousands of families we serve. We believe our customers will recognize that quality, service and price cannot be juggled to include trading stamps without someone having to pay the bill; therefore, it certainly is much better for our customers–and, incidentally, for us–if we revert to making a purchase a simple transaction involving only two things–the item of merchandise and its price.

The very simplicity of this proven method of doing business makes it possible to offer quality brand-name products at attractive, lower prices.

Effective immediately, Bloor's are quitting the stamp business and are returning 100% to doing business in the time-proven way—the right merchandise at the right time and at the right price.

We cordially invite everyone to join the thousands of regular Bloor customers and shop at our four conveniently located stores – Downtown East Liverpool; Pennsylvania Avenue (East End); Wellsville and Toronto, Ohio.

Pros And Cons Given On Bilingualism

In the United States many children live in families where they learn a non-English language before entering school. Bilingualism in our country is centered in the large metropolitan areas, in the rural Middle West, in the five southwestern states and Hawaii. In 1945 two authorities estimated that 25 per cent of the school population in the U. S. was bilingual. In the 1940 census 22,000,000 white persons reported that their home language was not English.

Dr. Garry Meyers

In 1937 New York City was estimated as 60 per cent bilingual. The five southwestern states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and California were reported in 1948 to have 2,000,000 Spanish-speaking people.

—:—

THESE AND other facts were reported in the journal, Elementary English, by J. Vernon Jensen under the title, "Effects of Childhood Bilingualism".

This author also discusses the handicaps to the bilingual children's speech and language development, intellectual and school progress, emotional instability and he notes even social disadvantages. Parents and teachers should study this article.

As you read it you may overlook the many advantages made possible by bilingualism in cultural enrichment to the family and nation. Imagine our nation with no homes in which any language but English was spoken. Consider the wide array of foreign languages, in addition to English, that are learned by different children at home.

Teachers incline to wish that no language but English were ever used in the homes of the children they teach and to encourage the non-English speaking parents to try to speak only English to their school children. Obviously, this procedure would help make the teacher's work easier at school.

BUT WOULD IT really make her a greater educator?

Instead, I believe she would be wiser to encourage her school children to keep alive the non-English language they learned at home and enjoy using it part of the time with their parents.

The teacher should consider how doing so would cultivate happy parent - child relationship and cause the parents to strive harder to learn also with their children to speak and write English better.

Why should a child whose parents, also himself, can speak a foreign language well in addition to English, not be proud that they all can?

When the child begins speech he will make best progress at speaking if he hears only one language till he is three or four years old.

My bulletin "The Young Child's Speech" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Researchers Cite Cancer In Mice In Cigarette Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — A team of medical researchers says tests have demonstrated tobacco drawn through filter tipped cigarettes contains a tar substance that can cause skin cancers in mice.

The report, published today in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said six brands of cigarettes, including two filter-tip types, were used in the one-year study.

The research was undertaken, they said, to determine if the cancer risk had been eliminated from cigarettes, or reduced by modifications in recent years.

Tumors were induced by every brand of cigarette tested, they said, but the filtered cigarette smoke yielded only one-third the amount of tar in standard cigarette smoke.

There were fewer tumors and a slower onset of tumors among the filtered cigarette group.

Tar yields among standard cigarettes differed by less than 20 per cent, they said.

The experimental procedure consisted of condensing the smoke from machine-smoked cigarettes to obtain the tar, they explained. The tar was dissolved in a solvent, acetone, and applied to the shaved skin of the mouse in amounts equivalent to 8.3 smoked cigarettes a day.

The tobacco industry, however, contends there is no evidence that smoking causes cancer.

Men's Novel Sundial Resembles Basketball

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two Louisville men have come up with a novel sundial that resembles a basketball. Paul Snider and Hearl Jones have applied for a patent.

The device is an eight-inch sphere with two narrow slots exactly opposite each other. The axis points directly north - south and the slots are vertical at that plane. When the sphere is turned so that the sun's rays shine through both slots at the same time, an indicator on the metered face points to the time of day.

Quick Fire Call Credited To Girl

Chief Harry Reckner of the Glenmoor fire deparment today credited a Wyoming Ave. girl with preventing what could have been a spreading grass fire by phoning firemen in time for them to quell the blaze and confine it to less than an acre.

Karen Wynn, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wynn of Wyoming Ave., noticed the flames shooting from deep grass on a tract on Vale St. and ran back into her home and phoned firemen at 1:55 p.m. Thursday.

Eleven men with two trucks, including a tanker, quelled the fire in about an hour and prevented its spread to a heavily wooded area. The property burned over is owned by William Cunningham of Route 170, Calcutta.

Karen, who will be in the eighth grade at Beaver Public School, said a neighborhood boy also saw the flames "but he was scared and ran home."

Chamber At Midland Sees 125 For Picnic

About 125 are expected to attend the family picnic to be held Sunday at 2 p.m. by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

It will be at the summer home of George Cindrich at former Dam 7 at Georgetown. Anthony Martell and Paul McGeehan are co-chairmen.

Martell said there will be children's games beginning at 2:30. Food will be served buffet style between 4 and 4:30. Adult games and contests will follow.

Swimming facilities will be available, Martell said.

Charles R. Schmitt is Chamber president.

Tractor-Trailer Tire Damages Halted Auto

The left rear fender of a halted auto was damaged Thursday afternoon at Jefferson and W. 5th Sts. when struck by the rear tire of a turning tractor-trailer rig, police reported.

The 1959 four - door sedan of Twyla M. Pollock, 30, of Richmond R.D. 1 was bumped by the tire of a 1961 model tractor-trailer operated by Robert J. Woicinski, 40, of Columbus, officers said. The rig was undamaged, officers reported.

The woman driver said she was halted for a traffic signal at the intersection and the tractor-trailer was turning from W. 5th St. onto Jefferson.

Dr. Carrigg Speaks To Lions At Lisbon

LISBON — Dr. John Carrigg of Steubenville discussed "Anti-War Parties In American History" at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday night at the club cottage with Dean Senanefes, president, presiding.

Dr. Carrigg, Republican candidate for 18th District congressman and head of the Department of History at the College of Steubenville was introduced by Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon. Kenneth Everett was program chairman.

During business, the club completed plans for the annual street fair Sept. 27-29.

17% Ahead Of 1961

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Total import - export cargo handled in the port of Toledo is running more than 17 per cent ahead of last year, when it led all Great Lakes ports, says the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority.

The port handled 7,835,970 net tons in 1961, an increase of 1,857,513 net tons over the previous year, the U. S. Corps of Engineers reports. This years's cargo is 73 per cent more than handled by the second-place port, Duluth-Superior, the report showed.

hopes to complete by the end of next week, he said.

Owen said he has received some questions about the company's availability for work on driveways and other private property while it is here for the street program.

He said he wants to talk to the officials about the requests, but the arrangements will have to be made between the company and the owners of the private property. The city is acting as middle man for the work on the streets and paying 50 per cent of the cost.

Petitions for six more small improvement projects have been filed in the director's office. Five are short sections in one neighborhood around Lincoln Ave.

In the Lincoln Ave. area the petitions request surfacing of: Virgo Alley from Hill St. to a dead end; Lincoln Ave. from Case St. to Hill St.; Hill St. from Lincoln Ave. to Virgo Alley and from Virgo Alley to Oliver St. and Lincoln Ave. from Case and Hill Sts. to a dead end. The property-owners filed a check totaling $166 as their 50 per cent share of the five short jobs.

In addition to East Liverpool, American Vitrified has plants in Brazil, South Bend and Crawfordsville, Ind., Dertoit and Grand Ledge, Mich., Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Wisc., Somerville, N. J., and St. Louis, Mo.

Meanwhile, Amvit announced yesterday in a report on the first nine months of its fiscal year that it had net sales of $10,931,606, compared with $9,354,208 for the same period in the preceding fiscal year. Earnings were $291,255, against $16,786 in the first nine months of the preceding fiscal year.

Earnings per share amounted to $1.27, against 7 cents in the comparative period last year. Amvit's board declared a 10 cent dividend payable Oct. 15. It said the company has paid a 4 per cent stock dividend each year for the last six years.

hopes to complete by the end of next week, he said.

Owen said he has received some questions about the company's availability for work on driveways and other private property while it is here for the street program.

He said he wants to talk to the officials about the requests, but the arrangements will have to be made between the company and the owners of the private property. The city is acting as middle man for the work on the streets and paying 50 per cent of the cost.

Petitions for six more small improvement projects have been filed in the director's office. Five are short sections in one neighborhood around Lincoln Ave.

In the Lincoln Ave. area the petitions request surfacing of: Virgo Alley from Hill St. to a dead end; Lincoln Ave. from Case St. to Hill St.; Hill St. from Lincoln Ave. to Virgo Alley and from Virgo Alley to Oliver St. and Lincoln Ave. from Case and Hill Sts. to a dead end. The property-owners filed a check totaling $166 as their 50 per cent share of the five short jobs.

Miller, Amvit president, asserted today at Cleveland.

Howard Butcher III, president of the Philadelphia firm, has sent letters to Amvit stockholders offering to buy their shares at "the lowest price below $24," Miller said. It reserved the right to reject any stock offered after Sept. 24.

In addition to East Liverpool, American Vitrified has plants in Brazil, South Bend and Crawfordsville, Ind., Dertoit and Grand Ledge, Mich., Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Wisc., Somerville, N. J., and St. Louis, Mo.

Meanwhile, Amvit announced yesterday in a report on the first nine months of its fiscal year that it had net sales of $10,931,606, compared with $9,354,208 for the same period in the preceding fiscal year. Earnings were $291,255, against $16,786 in the first nine months of the preceding fiscal year.

Earnings per share amounted to $1.27, against 7 cents in the comparative period last year. Amvit's board declared a 10 cent dividend payable Oct. 15. It said the company has paid a 4 per cent stock dividend each year for the last six years.

DiSalle Says Work Force Up 200,000

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's work force is 200,000 greater than it was a year ago and unemployment is at the lowest level it has been in the past several years, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here Thursday in his campaign for re-election.

He said State Auditor James A. Rhodes, his Republican opponent, "is playing a numbers game with Ohio job statistics in an effort to mislead the people."

Rhodes has been "claiming in one breath that Ohio gained only 30,000 jobs in the past three years" and then he admits "we added 100,000 jobs in 1959, but says we lost more than that the year before and so on," the governor said.

Declaring that Rhodes also keeps calling for quick action to "get Ohio's economy off dead center," DiSalle added:

"We've offered him and his Republican legislative leaders quick action on his job scheme. We offered to call a special session of the legislature to let them try to put their scheme into effect—if they thought it really amounted to anything.

"But they ducked. They don't want any part of a legislative session on such a proposal now. They know—or they should know—that the scheme is unconstitutional in Ohio."

Officers Seek Youth For Bathing Suit Theft

A youth is being sought today by East Liverpool police as a suspect in the theft of a bathing suit valued at $9.99 from a downtown store Thursday.

Mrs. Anita Bluestone, owner of the Hollywood Fashions Store on E. 6th St., told police the aqua suit disappeared from a rack in her establishment about 9:40 a. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Bluestone told Patrolman Charles A. Winters the young man was examining a rack of women's bathing suits when she turned away to wait on another customer. When she returned, she said, both the youth and the bathing suit were missing. He is 17 to 18 and about 5 feet, 5 inches, she said.

Union Official Heads Voters Action Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cecil Dunlap of Cleveland, vice president of the Ohio AFL-CIO and president of the Retail Clerks Local 880, has been elected president of the Voters Action Association.

The group was formed to oppose amending the Ohio Constitution to change and clarify Sunday closing laws.

Frances Kapitzky of Strasburg and Harold Freedlander of Wooster were named vice presidents at Thursday's meeting here. John C. Mahoney, on leave from the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants, was named secretary-treasurer.

Claimed At 78

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Frank Granger Huntress Sr., 78, widow of the former president and publisher of the San Antonio Express and News, died Thursday. A son, Frank G. Huntress Jr., was president and publisher of the newspapers until the Express Publishing Co. was sold recently. Mrs. Huntress was the former Katherine Johnson of Palmyra, Mo.

DiSalle Says Work Force Up 200,000

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's work force is 200,000 greater than it was a year ago and unemployment is at the lowest level it has been in the past several years, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here Thursday in his campaign for re-election.

He said State Auditor James A. Rhodes, his Republican opponent, "is playing a numbers game with Ohio job statistics in an effort to mislead the people."

Rhodes has been "claiming in one breath that Ohio gained only 30,000 jobs in the past three years" and then he admits "we added 100,000 jobs in 1959, but says we lost more than that the year before and so on," the governor said.

Declaring that Rhodes also keeps calling for quick action to "get Ohio's economy off dead center," DiSalle added:

"We've offered him and his Republican legislative leaders quick action on his job scheme. We offered to call a special session of the legislature to let them try to put their scheme into effect—if they thought it really amounted to anything.

"But they ducked. They don't want any part of a legislative session on such a proposal now. They know—or they should know—that the scheme is unconstitutional in Ohio."

Officers Seek Youth For Bathing Suit Theft

A youth is being sought today by East Liverpool police as a suspect in the theft of a bathing suit valued at $9.99 from a downtown store Thursday.

Mrs. Anita Bluestone, owner of the Hollywood Fashions Store on E. 6th St., told police the aqua suit disappeared from a rack in her establishment about 9:40 a. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Bluestone told Patrolman Charles A. Winters the young man was examining a rack of women's bathing suits when she turned away to wait on another customer. When she returned, she said, both the youth and the bathing suit were missing. He is 17 to 18 and about 5 feet, 5 inches, she said.

Union Official Heads Voters Action Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cecil Dunlap of Cleveland, vice president of the Ohio AFL-CIO and president of the Retail Clerks Local 880, has been elected president of the Voters Action Association.

The group was formed to oppose amending the Ohio Constitution to change and clarify Sunday closing laws.

Frances Kapitzky of Strasburg and Harold Freedlander of Wooster were named vice presidents at Thursday's meeting here. John C. Mahoney, on leave from the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants, was named secretary-treasurer.

Claimed At 78

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Frank Granger Huntress Sr., 78, widow of the former president and publisher of the San Antonio Express and News, died Thursday. A son, Frank G. Huntress Jr., was president and publisher of the newspapers until the Express Publishing Co. was sold recently. Mrs. Huntress was the former Katherine Johnson of Palmyra, Mo.

Junior Editors Quiz on CEMENT

QUESTION: How did cement originate?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: People usually confuse "cement" and "concrete." Let's clear the difference up before we answer the question. Above, Bill is helping two workmen build a garage of concrete blocks near his house. He's bringing water to the man with the hoe. This man takes the dust-like powder called "cement" from the bags, mixes it with water, sand, and gravel. This mixture being concrete. It will be passed to the other man to bind the concrete blocks together. Cement and concrete were originated by the ancient Romans. They used lime and ashes from volcanos for the cement. The Romans used a layer of concrete under the stone of their famous roadways, (A). Later, the secret of concrete was lost but was rediscovered by an Englishman, John Smeaton, in 1756. A natural stone which made fine cement was discovered in a region called Portland, and this led to the finding of similar deposits in New York state. "Portland cement" then became very widely used.

CEMENT

QUESTION: How did cement originate?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: People usually confuse "cement" and "concrete." Let's clear the difference up before we answer the question. Above, Bill is helping two workmen build a garage of concrete blocks near his house. He's bringing water to the man with the hoe. This man takes the dust-like powder called "cement" from the bags, mixes it with water, sand, and gravel. This mixture being concrete. It will be passed to the other man to bind the concrete blocks together. Cement and concrete were originated by the ancient Romans. They used lime and ashes from volcanos for the cement. The Romans used a layer of concrete under the stone of their famous roadways, (A). Later, the secret of concrete was lost but was rediscovered by an Englishman, John Smeaton, in 1756. Special Meeting Held

Board Employs 6 New Teachers

The Wellsville Board of Education, at a special meeting Thursday night, hired six new instructors and accepted the resignation of three.

William Riley was employed as a social studies instructor and as an assistant football coach. This is his first position. His salary will be $4,550.

Richard Jones, a former Southern Local instructor, was hired as a social studies instructor and as an assistant in football and track. He also will coach junior high basketball. His salary will be $5,500.

—:—

MISS KAREN Bricklemyer, a former teacher in the Pittsburgh system, was hired as a commercial teacher at a salary of $4,150. Mrs. Frances Stepro, a former Wellsville instructor, was employed as an English teacher at a salary of $4,450 while Harry Criss, a former Beaver Local teacher, will be an industrial arts instructor and a coach at junior high for $3,900.

Mrs. Evelyn Culp of Wellsville was employed as an elementary teacher at a salary of $4,400.

The board accepted the resignations of James Ferry, Joseph Caporossi and Hugh O'Brien. Ferry was a commercial teacher and junior high principal. He has accepted another teaching position.

CAPOROSSI was an elementary instructor. He said he will teach at the Immaculate Conception Parochial School. O'Brien resigned because of illness in his family.

Donald Lowe was named to assist John Mackov in Daw Junior High School on a half-time basis. He previously had been appointed assistant high school principal on a half-time basis. He was going to teach but now will have full - time administrative duties. His salary will be $6,100, with an additional $550 for serving as faculty manager, a position he held previously.

Lowe will take up part of the duties of Ferry. Miss Bricklemyer will pick up part of the teaching duties held by Ferry.

William Ferrall, board member, objected to having read in The Review about Jones being hired as an assistant football coach before the board acted on his appointment.

—:—

HE SAID HE KNEW nothing of the appointment. Charles Glass, another board member, said he had heard of the placement while in a barbershop before reading it in the paper. Richard Grills, another member, agreed the members should have been informed.

The question of the legality of hiring an instructor before board action was discussed.

Supt. Lowell Myers explained that even though an instructor signs a contract, it still has to be approved by the board before it is legal. If the board does not approve the appointment, the contract does not stand, he said.

Earl Bake, president, said he will notify members of future appointments, especially to coaching positions, before any public announcement is made. He said he knew of the hiring of Jones but had failed to notify the others.

MYERS SAID three more instructors are needed, including another industrial arts instructor. He said he has a line on a teacher and may know definitely by next week.

Myers announced a meeting for all new teachers in the system will be held next Friday. He said they will tour the city, the school buildings and will be taken to a luncheon. Board members agreed to pay for the lunches from their own personal funds.

Building principals also will make the tour and meet with the new instructors. Myers said there are 11 new teachers now and there may be 14 or 15.

In answer to a question from Grills, Myers said it appears there will be less pupils in the system this year. The teaching staff will be one less than last year. Some 311 pupils are anticipated in the junior high school, where there are 11 teachers, with 575 in the upper four grades. The drop in enrollment is in the elementary level.

Schools will open Sept. 5.

A DISCUSSION was held on transferring children from one district to another. Ferrall opposed the move. Grills said it would be setting a precedent. Bake commented that the case in mind would allow a young child to walk to school with an older brother.

The decision was left to Myers on the transfer of any pupil.

Student handbooks were presented the board members. They will be presented all students entering the upper grades this year. The handbook lists rules and regulations governing all phases of school life and conduct.

The visual education room at Daw Junior High will be utilized Oct. 16 by the Columbiana County Board of Elections to hold a training class for Wellsville election workers.

Work has been started on the installation of a new lighting system at the gymnasium.

Potters Continue Filling Posts For Wage Committee

Local unions of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters are continuing to elect delegates to a meeting of the Wage Policy Committee Sept. 13 at Cincinnati at which the groundwork will be laid for new contract negotiations with generalware and chinaware manufacturers.

The locals are scheduled to name their delegates at individual meetings throughout August.

The IBOP announced first plans for the committee's session on July 12, explaining notices to elect delegates were sent to locals covered by contracts with the U.S. Potters Association and a group of chinaware manufacturers. The current two - year contracts run out Dec. 1.

Conferees attending the policy meeting will present proposals which their local unions feel should be presented to manufacturers as the basis for negotiating a new agreement, the IBOP said.

Gypsy Prince Sick In Akron Hospital

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A Gypsy prince is seriously ill here and between 80 and 100 of his relatives and friends have come from throughout the country to City Hospital to pray for him.

Miller Marks, 48-year-old leader of a 480-member tribe from Serbia and Romania, is in critical condition after surgery for inflamation of the pancreas. Marks now lives in Akron.

An aunt, Marie Tennis of Youngstown, said the word of Marks' illness had been spread largely by telephone. More Gypsies are arriving daily by car, bus and train, she said.

Marks has had this attention because of his status in the family, his intelligence and personality, said Mrs. Tennis. The status, title of prince, was handed to him by his great-grandfather, she said.

Ballots Issued For Beaver's ASC Voting

Ballots were to be mailed today to Beaver County farmers by the county's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for the election of community committeemen.

The ballots must be returned to the ASC office in the Federal Building at Beaver by Sept. 4.

Mark F. Hilliker, chairman of the county ASC, announced the following slate of nominees:

Community 6 — Daugherty, Franklin, Marion and North Sewickley Townships:

Duane Douglas, Roy Herrmann, Milton Swick of Beaver Falls R. D. 2; Ralph Beighey, Keith Nye, Ray Perkins, Lee Steffler, Tom West and Laurence Zeigler, all of Fombell, and Scott Wright of Harmony.

To be elected are three regular committee members and two alternates. The chairman and vice chairman of the elected community committees will also serve as delegate and alternate delegate, respectively, to the county convention where the county ASC committee will be chosen. The county convention will be held Sept. 11 at the ASC office at 10 a.m.

Questions of eligibility to vote and to hold office will be determined by the county committee, subject to appeal to the state committee. The county ASC committee, acting through community committees, has the responsibility for carrying out the county ACP, price support program, acreage allotment and marketing quota program, soil bank, feed grain program, wheat stabilization program and other programs as may be assigned by the Secretary of Agriculture or Congress.

Tombstones Upset

SALINEVILLE — Jack Drugen of Salineville reported to Police Chief Roy Lewis that 13 small tombstones were overturned sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning at the St. Patrick Catholic Church Cemetery.

Babe Ruth may have hit a record 714 home runs during his 22 year major league career but he also struck out more than any other player — 1,330 times.

Midland Council Meets

Mill Asks Space For Doctor's Car

Midland Council Thursday evening gave its traffic committee the power to act on a request of the Crucible Steel Co. for restricted parking space for its plant medical director.

In a letter to Council's traffic committee, read by Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, the company explained that several service facilities are being moved by Sept. 1, including the plant hospital. It is being moved to 9th St. and Midland Ave. in a building formerly occupied by the Technical Services Department.

—:—

THE COMPANY said that in connection with the move, it feels that the wellbeing and safety of plant personnel would be served if Dr. E. H. North Jr., plant medical director, could have a space available at all times. A parking space within a plant lot might hinder him coming and going.

The letter said the request had been discussed earlier with Police Chief Ed J. Stefl and Mayor Eli Corak. The company said a sign indicating the restriction of a parking space will be prepared by the company.

Council also gave the traffic committee power to act regarding the need for a "no backing up sign" at Railroad Ave. and 8th St. It was reported that such a sign is at 8th St. and Midland Ave. but motorists are using the next intersection and in the last couple of weeks several children have had close calls.

R. E. STEEBNER, borough engineer, and Matt Brozic, sreet foreman, were asked to inspect for dead trees among those planted last November in the Spring Ln. area. Several complaints have been received of dead trees.

Brozic said that the Stanley Tree Co. of Beaver Falls will be contacted. He said he knew of one dead tree. The tree firm has guaranteed the trees for a year.

Mayor Corak commented on a recent request of the Chamber of Commerce for a joint committee with Council to control Tag Days. He said such a committee would be almost unworkable. Corak said Tag Days are controlled now 100 per cent better than the period prior to 1956 when on pay days there were beggars and two, three or four organizations fighting to monopolize spots.

BY AUTHORITY of Council, the mayor has the say on Tag Days. He said the borough has a rule that every non-profit organization is qualified to request a Tag Day and that a schedule is set up in order to control them.

Corak said it is not compulsory for people to give. He said some people do not want any Tag Days and some would criticize anything. He said they are not a nuisance if controlled.

Corak said the Tag Days are not unpopular among most of the people, evident by the amounts that the organizations realize.

—:—

HE WENT briefly through a list of organizations which have or had tag days. They include the Band Boosters, Post-Prom Committee, Easter Lily, Midland Boosters, Poppy Day, Mt. Olive Centennial, Church of the Living God, Mt. Olive Auxiliary, Salvation Army, Junior Legion Baseball, 40 & 8 Help-a-Kid, St. Paul's and the Marine Corps Auxiliary.

He said no two organizations have a Tag Day the same pay day. He instructed Mrs. O'Hara to write to the Chamber giving it a brief account of his report to Council.

Council granted the Presentation Catholic Church permission to close off Ohio Ave., between 7th and 8th Sts. on Oct. 2-4 from 5 p. m. to midnight for a bazaar for benefit of the church's building fund.

Councilman Lester Trainer made the motion. The request was in a letter from Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor.

WILLIAM Vinovich, Council president and Veterans' Memorial Swimming Pool committee chairman, reported that the pool will close Labor Day.

Following adjournment, Council met informally with the Municipal Authority to discuss plans for off-street parking which Council has asked the authority to carry out.

South Side Post Picks Chairmen, 2 To County Unit

Committee chairmen and delegates to the county committee were named at a meeting of South Side American Legion Post 952 Wednesday evening at the post home near Hookstown.

Chairmen are Paul Leeper, membership; Ed Olson, house; Charles Cook, building; Jack Waugaman, by-laws, and Charles Wright, recreation. Delegates to the Beaver County American Legion Committee are Steve Belich and William Laughlin and alternates are Virgil Septer and Dwight Harper.

It was announced that the usual Thursday evening socials will continue with Joe Barile as chairman.

Joe Krizan is commander. An annual coverdish dinner will be held Labor Day at the post home. An annual turkey shoot will be held Nov. 17 at the post home with John Travers as chairman.

New members accepted were Robert Comer Jr., Wilbert Ammons and Clair Dornack. A committee reported that a recent auction was a success. J. C. Mason was the auctioneer and area merchants participated.

Next meeting is Sept. 12.

Hoot Gibson Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hoot Gibson, 70, cowboy star of the old-time western films for 30 years, died Thursday of cancer. He was born Edmund Richard Gibson and came to Hollywood in 1910. He retired from movies in 1944 after making 200 silents and 75 talkies.

The hummingbird is the only bird that can fly backwards. It also can remain poised in the air without changing its position.

Newell Crash Hurts Woman

A city woman was injured in a rear-end collision in Newell Thursday morning at 6:30, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Alice Lockhart, 666 Green Ln., was treated at City Hospital for a neck injury after the two - car crash at the intersection of Washington and 4th Sts.

Deputies said the city driver's car was struck in the rear by a 1958 sedan operated by George F. Dill, 31, of 108 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Both cars were headed south on Washington St. Dill told deputies he applied his brakes to halt for the city woman's car ahead, but the brake lines "broke" and the rear-end collision resulted.

Deputies said the city woman was driving a car owned by John Monte, 339 Commerce St., Wellsville.

The two drivers and Monte notified the county sheriff's office of the accident and deputies made an investigation at 11:45 a. m.

Damage was estimated at $200 each to the two vehicles.

Killed On Scooter

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Richard Formanek, 20, of Avon was killed Thursday night when a car struck the motor scooter he was riding on Ohio 76 in Avon. The driver of the car, Mary O'Conner, 19, of North Ridgeville, and her sister, Margaret, 14, were treated for injuries at St. Joseph Hospital.

Killed In Wreck

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Hillman, 21, of Ravenna was killed early today when his car went out of control on Ohio 43 on a curve a mile south of here and struck a mailbox.

U.S. Of Europe Urged As Block To Communism

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A United States of Europe growing out of the success of the European Common Market would be a bulwark against communism, says John Marshall Briley, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Addressing a business and professional luncheon here Thursday, the former Toledo glass company executive urged a better understanding of the Common Market and its effect on this country.

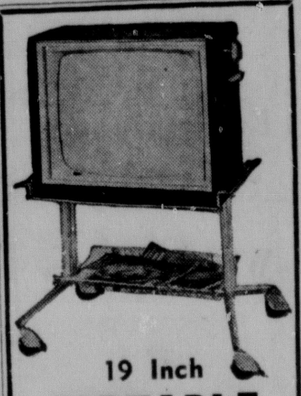

"It is the responsibility of political and business leadership in America today to explain the true nature of the Common Market," Briley said. "We must face the serious fact that our exports will have to meet sharper competition from products of the Common Market countries."

Briley is campaigning to unseat Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the November election.

R. E. STEEBNER, borough engineer, and Matt Brozic, sreet foreman, were asked to inspect for dead trees among those planted last November in the Spring Ln. area. Several complaints have been received of dead trees.

Brozic said that the Stanley Tree Co. of Beaver Falls will be contacted. He said he knew of one dead tree. The tree firm has guaranteed the trees for a year.

Mayor Corak commented on a recent request of the Chamber of Commerce for a joint committee with Council to control Tag Days. He said such a committee would be almost unworkable. Corak said Tag Days are controlled now 100 per cent better than the period prior to 1956 when on pay days there were beggars and two, three or four organizations fighting to monopolize spots.

BY AUTHORITY of Council, the mayor has the say on Tag Days. He said the borough has a rule that every non-profit organization is qualified to request a Tag Day and that a schedule is set up in order to control them.

Corak said it is not compulsory for people to give. He said some people do not want any Tag Days and some would criticize anything. He said they are not a nuisance if controlled.

Corak said the Tag Days are not unpopular among most of the people, evident by the amounts that the organizations realize.

—:—

HE WENT briefly through a list of organizations which have or had tag days. They include the Band Boosters, Post-Prom Committee, Easter Lily, Midland Boosters, Poppy Day, Mt. Olive Centennial, Church of the Living God, Mt. Olive Auxiliary, Salvation Army, Junior Legion Baseball, 40 & 8 Help-a-Kid, St. Paul's and the Marine Corps Auxiliary.

He said no two organizations have a Tag Day the same pay day. He instructed Mrs. O'Hara to write to the Chamber giving it a brief account of his report to Council.

Council granted the Presentation Catholic Church permission to close off Ohio Ave., between 7th and 8th Sts. on Oct. 2-4 from 5 p. m. to midnight for a bazaar for benefit of the church's building fund.

Councilman Lester Trainer made the motion. The request was in a letter from Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor.

WILLIAM Vinovich, Council president and Veterans' Memorial Swimming Pool committee chairman, reported that the pool will close Labor Day.

Following adjournment, Council met informally with the Municipal Authority to discuss plans for off-street parking which Council has asked the authority to carry out.

South Side Post Picks Chairmen, 2 To County Unit

Chairmen are Paul Leeper, membership; Ed Olson, house; Charles Cook, building; Jack Waugaman, by-laws, and Charles Wright, recreation. Delegates to the Beaver County American Legion Committee are Steve Belich and William Laughlin and alternates are Virgil Septer and Dwight Harper.

It was announced that the usual Thursday evening socials will continue with Joe Barile as chairman.

Joe Krizan is commander. An annual coverdish dinner will be held Labor Day at the post home. An annual turkey shoot will be held Nov. 17 at the post home with John Travers as chairman.

New members accepted were Robert Comer Jr., Wilbert Ammons and Clair Dornack. A committee reported that a recent auction was a success. J. C. Mason was the auctioneer and area merchants participated.

Next meeting is Sept. 12.

Newell Crash Hurts Woman

A city woman was injured in a rear-end collision in Newell Thursday morning at 6:30, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Alice Lockhart, 666 Green Ln., was treated at City Hospital for a neck injury after the two - car crash at the intersection of Washington and 4th Sts.

Deputies said the city driver's car was struck in the rear by a 1958 sedan operated by George F. Dill, 31, of 108 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Both cars were headed south on Washington St. Dill told deputies he applied his brakes to halt for the city woman's car ahead, but the brake lines "broke" and the rear-end collision resulted.

Deputies said the city woman was driving a car owned by John Monte, 339 Commerce St., Wellsville.

The two drivers and Monte notified the county sheriff's office of the accident and deputies made an investigation at 11:45 a. m.

Damage was estimated at $200 each to the two vehicles.

U.S. Of Europe Urged As Block To Communism

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A United States of Europe growing out of the success of the European Common Market would be a bulwark against communism, says John Marshall Briley, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Addressing a business and professional luncheon here Thursday, the former Toledo glass company executive urged a better understanding of the Common Market and its effect on this country.

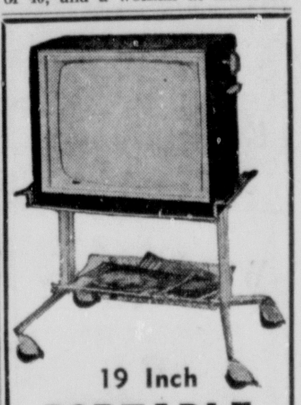

"It is the responsibility of political and business leadership in America today to explain the true nature of the Common Market," Briley said. "We must face the serious fact that our exports will have to meet sharper competition from products of the Common Market countries."

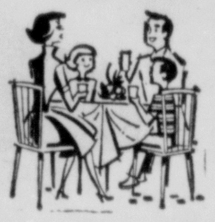

Briley is campaigning to unseat Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche in the November election.
